Sage's Guild is number one on their eradication list. If Obadai helps, he'll have a price on his head too, but he can't abandon Jules. Escaping the ripper's clutches is not enough. Jules has a mission of his own: to repair a faulty airship inn about to crash into the fortified township of Dunbruth. Luckily, Obadai has a few magickal secrets up his sleeve. Knowledge and the Transcendent Paul A. Macdonald, 2009. This book advances the claim that the human mind is not bounded on the outside but actually remains open to the world and to God. As such, the mind is able to know the world and God with varying degrees of objectivity. The author turns to the philosophical theology of Thomas Aquinas in order to explore claims that Aquinas makes about human cognition as well as our knowledge of God. In this life, while we cannot know or see God directly, we nevertheless can enjoy some knowledge of God by way of reason and faith, both of which are cognitive capacities for forming and holding true beliefs about God. Consequently, the author argues that Aquinas provides powerful philosophical and theological resources for rehabilitating the mind's relationship to God and thus also safeguarding our knowledge of transcendent being and truth.

Illusions & Dreams Z. Allora, 2014-11-17. After Randy Camster failed at marriage, his life centered around work, TV sports, and listening to his friend Jake complain about how Randy's lack of a sex life will be the downfall of mankind. Not true. Well, not totally. Randy has just never understood the fascination with sex until ladyboy performer Lalana Dulyarat shimmies into his world via an Internet ad for Thailand tourism. After that, it doesn't take much for Jake to convince Randy to take a Bang Cock vacation. Finding an adorable little imp named Boon nam wasn't on Jake O'Neil's itinerary. Gay, straight, and undecided, Jake has had 'em all but never a virgin aching to explore her new body after successful affirmation surgery. Talk about pressure. And what's with everyone warning him not to break Boon nam's heart? His is the one in danger. Jake's openness about sexuality has always made Randy wonder if he is too focused on gender. Lalana is even more beautiful in real life than he'd hoped, but she's keeping her male parts and has no intention of ever having surgery. Does it really matter? A return ticket to reality awaits. The clock is ticking on the two couples' hopes for love unless they can find a way to span gender culture and half a world.  width 195. 2015 Rainbow Awards Honorable Mention. Love and Organization Michael Pirson, 2022-06-30. Organizations are not human, but they are made up of people. Examining the organization functioning, growing, and developing and moving together as one unit, the well-being and success of that organization depends on the well-being of people that make it up. Love in its various forms is the energy that motivates and fuels creativity, care, innovation, progress, and well-being. Traditionally, organizational structures have been set up to support compliance and command and control, which often discourages love and creates policies against love at the workplace. The result has been reduced growth, productivity, and retention of businesses as well as reduced well-being for employees. This reduced connectivity between individuals has also, at a higher level, adversely affected society. Without love, people are working and performing with reduced energy and at reduced capacity. While prior research has been focused on love at the workplace from the viewpoint of psychologists this book explores the impact of love within organizational contexts from various viewpoints including management psychology and philosophy It explores love in the organizational context by looking at how it affects meaning purpose well being motivation faith care spiritual development and how the identity and well being of each person in the organization positively affects retention and the growth and success of that organization It will be of interest to researchers academics and advanced students in the fields of organizational studies leadership and management Form Without

Matter Mark Eli Kalderon,2015 Mark Eli Kalderon presents an original study in the philosophy of perception written in the medium of historiography He considers the phenomenology and metaphysics of sensory presentation through the examination of an ancient aporia Specifically he argues that a puzzle about perception at a distance is behind Empedocles theory of vision Empedocles conceives of perception as a mode of material assimilation but this raises a puzzle about color vision since color vision seems to present colors that inhere in distant objects But if the colors inhere in distant objects how can they be taken in by the organ of sight and so be palpable to sense Aristotle purports to resolve this puzzle in his definition of perception as the assimilation of sensible form without the matter of the perceived particular Aristotle explicitly criticizes Empedocles though he is keen to retain the idea that perception is a mode of assimilation if not a material mode Aristotle s notorious definition has long puzzled commentators Kalderon shows how read in light of Empedoclean puzzlement about the sensory presentation of remote objects Aristotle s definition of perception can be better understood Moreover when so read the resulting conception of perception is both attractive and defensible The Metaphysics of Love Stella Sandford,2000-01-01 Emmanuel Levinas is best known for having reintroduced the question of ethics into the Continental philosophical tradition In The Metaphysics of Love however Stella Sandford argues that an over emphasis on ethics in the reception of Levinas s thought has covered over both the basis and the details of his philosophical project a metaphysics which affirms the necessity to think of an unqualified transcendence as a first principle Sandford s book is at the same time a powerful feminist critique of both Levinas s gendered philosophical categories and the attempt to reclaim aspects of this philosophy for feminist theory Obligation and the Fact of Sense Bryan Lueck,2019-02-06 Staging a fruitful dialogue between the analytic and Continental philosophical traditions while reflecting specifically on the work of Hegel Merleau Ponty Serres and Nancy Lueck offers a creative new approach to the problem of moral obligation Lueck builds on Immanuel Kant s fact of reason the idea that being a moral subject necessarily presupposes ones having accepted the bindingness of obligation to show that it must be rethought as the fact of sense Reshaping the Sexes in Sense and Sensibility Moreland Perkins,1998 Gracefully written and deftly argued this book makes a persuasive case for taking a fresh look at Austen

Feeling Time Amit S. Yahav,2018-03-19 Literary historians have tended to associate the eighteenth century with the rise of the tyranny of the clock the notion of time as ruled by mechanical chronometry The transition to standardized scheduling and time discipline the often told story goes inevitably results in modernity s time keeper societies and the characterization of modern experience as qualitatively diminished In Feeling Time Amit Yahav challenges this narrative of the triumph of chronometry and the consequent impoverishment of individual experience She explores the fascination eighteenth century writers had with the mental and affective processes through which human beings come not only to know that time has passed but also to feel the durations they inhabit Yahav begins by elucidating discussions by Locke and Hume that examine how humans come to know time noting how these philosophers often consider not only knowledge but also experience She then turns to novels by Richardson Sterne and Radcliffe attending to the material dimensions of literary language to show how novelists shape the temporal experience of readers through their formal choices Along the way she considers a wide range of eighteenth century aesthetic and moral treatises finding that these identify the subjective experience of duration as the crux of pleasure and judgment described more as patterned durational activity than as static state Feeling Time highlights the temporal underpinnings of the eighteenth century s culture of sensibility arguing that novelists have often drawn on the logic of musical composition to make their writing an especially effective tool for exploring time and for shaping durational experience

Routledge Library Editions: 18th Century Philosophy Various,2021-07-14 This collection reissues 17 titles that provide an excellent overview of 18th century philosophy as well as the debates that surround the topic Featuring works on Berkeley Hume Kant and Rousseau among others the collection examines a host of philosophical arguments by the leading thinkers of the time It is an essential reference collection Seeing More Samantha Matherne,2024-05-07 Samantha Matherne defends a systematic interpretation of the philosopher Immanuel Kants theory of imagination In contrast with more traditional theories of imagination as a kind of fantasy that we exercise only in relation to objects that are not real or not present Matherne argues that Kant theorizes imagination as something that we exercise just as much in relation to objects that are real and present In short she attributes to Kant a view of imagining as something that pervades our lives In order to bring out this pervasiveness Matherne offers an account of what kind of mental capacity Kant takes imagination to be in general She then explores Kants picture of how we exercise our imagination in perception ordinary experience the appreciation of beauty and sublimity the production of art the pursuit of happiness and the pursuit of morality However she makes the case that Kants analysis of this wide range of phenomena is underwritten by a unified theory of what imagination is as a remarkably flexible cognitive capacity that we can exercise in constrained and creative playful and serious ways
