Religious Environmental Activism in Asia Leslie E. Sponsel, 2020-04-09 Throughout the world religious organizations are exploring and implementing into action ideas about the relevance of religion and spirituality in dealing with a growing multitude of environmental issues and problems Religion and spirituality have the potential to be extremely influential for the better at many levels and in many ways through their intellectual emotional and activist components This collection focuses on providing a set of captivating essays on the specifics of concrete cases of environmental activism involving most of the main Asian religions from several countries Particular case studies are drawn from the religions of Animism Buddhism Daoism Hinduism Islam and Jainism They are from the countries of Bhutan China India Indonesia and Thailand Thereby this set of case studies offers a very substantial and rich sampling of religious environmental activism in Asia They are grounded in years of original field research on the subjects covered Collectively these case studies reveal a fascinating and significant movement of environmental initiatives in engaged practical spiritual ecology in Asia Accordingly this collection should be of special interest to a diversity of scientists academics instructors and students as well as communities and leaders from a wide variety of religions environmentalism and conservation

Searching for Sustainability Bryan G. Norton, 2003 This book examines from a multidisciplinary viewpoint the question of what we mean what we should mean by setting sustainability as a goal for environmental management The author trained as a philosopher of science and language explores ways to break down the disciplinary barriers to communication and deliberation about environment policy and to integrate science and evaluations into a more comprehensive environmental policy Choosing sustainability as the keystone concept of environmental policy the author explores what we can learn about sustainable living from the philosophy of pragmatism from ecology from economics from planning from conservation biology and from related disciplines The idea of adaptive or experimental management provides the context while insights from various disciplines are integrated into a comprehensive philosophy of environmental management The book will appeal to students and professionals in the fields of environmental policy and ethics conservation biology and philosophy of science

Youth Activism in Environmental Politics, 2nd Edition Matt Henn, Sarah Pickard, 2023-02-02 Recently important new research has emerged to explain the large intergenerational cleavages in values and political preferences in many contemporary societies In most established democracies and many newer democracies young people are more likely to possess progressive values and are much more cosmopolitan in their outlook socially liberal accepting of cultural diversity and outward looking than older generations They tend to reject mainstream electoral politics and authoritarian nationalist forms of populism in favour of alternative progressive political parties and movements Indeed there is burgeoning evidence of a global tendency towards young people s support for and participation in new styles of non institutionalised political action that seem to better fit their life styles and to permit the actualisation of their political aspirations Although there is a considerable body of existing literature that examines the rise of such values and political participation preferences there is little work that focuses on the relationship with the prioritisation of environmental issues and environmental activism as evidenced in the September 2019 global climate strikes The goal of the current Research Topic is to explore the contemporary realities and patterns of youth participation in environmental politics in different societies As such we welcome manuscripts of original research and conceptualization that address the different practices of youth as they seek to effect environmental change and also their motivations for doing so Contributions are welcome from scholars youth practitioners and activists operating in a range of different settings and using diverse disciplinary and multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives
