Northern Lights on PISA 2006 Tomas Matti, 2009 The Next Big Thing Trends Shaping Nordic Innovation is written for people interested in and working with the issues of innovation economic development globalisation and climate change and how these issues impact on companies and industries and in national or in international settings such as Nordic co operation or the European Union The book argues that innovation needs to be measured and managed Innovation needs to be developed as a serious management discipline in order to deliver on the future expectations of investors whether these investors are from private companies or public government agencies The publication also argues that there is a need to emphasise that research is not the same as innovation and that we need to distinguish between science and the scientific method in order to develop better innovation policies and innovation management techniques In the final focus chapter on climate change the book states that the Nordic region has a strong position within some of the new energy and environment industries Yet in order to keep that position and to stay in the global vanguard of clean technologies and climate industries it might be necessary for the Nordic countries to experiment with what the authors call forced innovation The book is relevant for industry branch organisations company managers policy makers public policy professionals as well as graduate and undergraduate courses in management innovation entrepreneurship globalisation and climate change

Successful Public Policy in the Nordic Countries Caroline de la Porte, Guðný Björk Eydal, Jaakko Kauko, Daniel Nohrstedt, Paul 't Hart, Bent

Sofus Tranøy,2022-09-01 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence. It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. This book presents twenty-three in-depth case studies of successful public policies and programs in Sweden, Denmark, Finland, Norway, and Iceland. Each chapter tells the story of the policy's origins, aims, design, decision-making, and implementation processes and assesses in which respects programmatically, process-wise, politically, and over time, and to what extent it can be considered to have been successful. It also points towards the driving forces of success and the challenges that have had to be overcome to achieve it. Combined, the chapters provide a resource for researchers, educators, and students of public policy both within and beyond the Nordic region. The Nordic Wave in Place Branding Cecilia Cassinger, Andrea Lucarelli, Szilvia Gyimóthy,2019 The widespread international interest in the Nordic region and the mobility of Nordic brand imaginaries call for more research into the global relevance of Nordic place branding practices. This book offers a timely attempt to unpack the specificity of the Nordic in regard to place branding by gathering different transdisciplinary accounts written by researchers in marketing, tourism, geography, communication, sociology, and political science. Northern Lights on PISA 2003 Nordisk Ministerråd,2007-01-24 This publication examines the results of the OECD Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA) 2003 study from a Nordic perspective, covering the countries of Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, and Sweden. The PISA 2003 study focused on mathematical literacy, with less detailed assessments of science and reading. What Works in Nordic School Policies? John Benedicto Krejsler, Lejlf Moos,2021-03-23 This book offers an original contribution to the area of international research on comparative education policies and the influence of transnational agencies on national school policy and reform. With a focus on grasping what the Nordic model or the Nordic dimension means in school and educational policy, the book explores in depth the school policy contexts of the five Nordic countries: Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, and Sweden. It demonstrates how these particular national contexts engage with and contextualize transnational collaboration on issues like school reform, accountability, evidence, and what works and digitalization. The book situates these policy issues over a long period of time while integrating the latest developments and reforms. It demonstrates how context matters. It shows how the often elusive but pervasive Nordic dimension can only be fully understood by painstaking scrutiny of the five national contexts, their particular trajectories, and mutual interactions in formal and informal education. Class and Stratification Analysis Gunn Elisabeth Birkelund,2013-02-06 Emphasizes unsolved issues and developments within class and stratification analysis, discussing both theoretical and methodological innovations and revisions. In this book, comparative analysis has also revealed cross-national differentiation in stratification processes, partly related to welfare state arrangements and national policies. Decolonial Sweden Michael McEachrane, Louis Faye,2024-12-16 Decolonial Sweden exposes the social and political relevance of European colonialism to Sweden and its place in the world. It is a book that points to why and how Sweden is to be included.

in global decolonial struggles Sweden is often displayed as an ethnoracially homogenous country without any colonial history an open and tolerant human rights champion anti racist anti colonial and in solidarity with the Global South For over twenty years authors Michael McEachrane and Louis Faye have been challenging this account pointing to Sweden s involvement in colonial histories and legacies its racialized nationhood and embedded colonial structures This important new book reflects a decolonial turn in research emphasizing that coloniality is far from over and that challenging global injustices remains an unfinished and open ended process Chapters in the book consider the resistance of the Sami people to Swedish colonialism whether Sweden owes the Caribbean reparations for its colonization of Saint Barth lemy and involvement in the transatlantic trade Sweden s involvement in a colonial global economy and how white European identification is embedded in Swedish politics nation building and society Engaging and insightful Decolonial Sweden invites readers to reconsider Swedish attitudes toward race colonialism and international relations This book is an essential read for Post and Decolonial scholars and students of Critical Race Studies Critical Indigenous Studies Africana Studies International Relations Global Development and Political Science as well as for anyone interested in Sweden s place in the world

Class Boundaries in Europe Cédric Hugrée, Étienne Penissat, Alexis Spire, John H. Hjelbrekke, 2022-11-30 Drawing inspiration from Pierre Bourdieu s social space theory this book provides an unprecedented overview of class relations covering topics such as class polarisation cultural reproduction political orientations and globalisation The book applies Bourdieusian social space approach to show how class boundaries have been maintained or transformed in different European countries Based on quantitative data it proposes a renewal of the analysis of distances divides and relations of domination between social classes documenting objective and symbolic boundaries that form the basis of individuals living and working conditions in 11 European countries Focusing on transformations of wealth inequalities education strategies and European labour markets the book examines the role of cultural economic and social capital It will be of interest to students and scholars across the social sciences in particular to those studying social and wealth inequalities in a comparative perspective and Master s students in European studies

Education for All? Cathie Jo Martin, 2023-09-21 Why did Denmark develop mass education for all in 1814 while Britain created a public school system only in 1870 that primarily educated academic achievers Cathie Jo Martin argues that fiction writers and their literary narratives inspired education campaigns throughout the nineteenth century Danish writers imagined mass schools as the foundation for a great society and economic growth Their depictions fortified the mandate to educate all people and showed neglecting low skill youth would waste societal resources and threaten the social fabric Conversely British authors pictured mass education as harming social stability lower class work and national culture Their stories of youths who overcame structural injustices with individual determination made it easier to blame students who failed to seize educational opportunities Novel and compelling Education for All uses a multidisciplinary perspective to offer a unique gaze into historical policymaking This title is part of the Flip it Open Programme and may also be available Open Access Check our website Cambridge Core for details
