What drives a young woman raised in a postwar New York City suburb to convert to Islam abandon her country and Jewish faith and embrace a life of exile in Pakistan The Convert tells the story of how Margaret Marcus of Larchmont became Maryam Jameelah of Lahore one of the most trenchant and celebrated voices of Islam's argument with the West A cache of Maryam's letters to her parents in the archives of the New York Public Library sends the acclaimed biographer Deborah Baker on her own odyssey into the labyrinthine heart of twentieth century Islam Casting a shadow over these letters is the mysterious figure of Mawlana Abul Ala Mawdudi both Maryam's adoptive father and the man who laid the intellectual foundations for militant Islam As she assembles the pieces of a singularly perplexing life Baker finds herself captive to questions raised by Maryam's journey Is her story just another bleak chapter in a so called clash of civilizations Or does it signify something else entirely And then there's this Is the life depicted in Maryam's letters home and in her books an honest reflection of the one she lived Like many compelling and true tales The Convert is stranger than fiction It is a gripping account of a life lived on the radical edge and a profound meditation on the cultural conflicts that frustrate mutual understanding
