Illustrated by H.C. Christy Richard Harding DAVIS, 1899 The Lion and the Unicorn Richard Harding Davis, 2018-06-19 The Lion and the Unicorn by Richard Harding Davis Prentiss had a long lease on the house and because it stood in Jermyn Street the upper floors were as a matter of course turned into lodgings for single gentlemen and because Prentiss was a Florist to the Queen he placed a lion and unicorn over his flowershop just in front of the middle window on the first floor By stretching a little each of them could see into the window just beyond him and could hear all that was said inside and such things as they saw and heard during the reign of Captain Carrington who moved in at the same time they did By day the table in the centre of the room was covered with maps and the Captain sat with a box of pins with different colored flags wrapped around them and amused himself by sticking them in the maps and measuring the spaces in between swearing meanwhile to himself We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience *The Lion and the Unicorn.
