Jean François Topin, 1870 The Man in the Iron Mask \(Unabridged\) Alexandre Dumas, 2019-06-17 The Man in the Iron Mask continues the tale of our four heroes from The Three Musketeers Dumas's wildly popular introduction to the mischievous Musketeers D'Artagnan Aramis Porthos and Athos In this dark sequel we track their lives many years after the prodigious moment when D'Artagnan receives a commission to be a lieutenant in the Musketeers We find in The Man in the Iron Mask that things have changed quite a bit from the seeming happy days of swashbuckling adventures The story opens at the famous French prison known as the Bastille A priest named Aramis a former Musketeer is sitting in a cell with a prisoner It seems that Aramis is at the prison to hear the man's confession The prisoner however doesn't have anything to confess because his only crime is being the King of France's twin brother Aramis happens to be one of the few people in France who knows this secret Aramis wastes no time in putting together a plan to free this prisoner and swap him for the legitimate king Once the former prisoner becomes king Aramis hopes to be rewarded by being appointed adviser to the King prime minister or even pope Meanwhile let's get up to speed on the situation with the real King We have a colorful cast of characters at court There's King Louis's mother Anne of Austria his younger brother known as Monsieur with a capital M his wife Maria Theresa and his mistress a woman named La Valliere Then there's the Superintendent of Finances a man by the name of Fouquet who's throwing a party at Vaux in an attempt to ingratiate himself with the King Among those who would like to see Fouquet swimming with the fishes is a man named Colbert the Minister of Finances To round off courtly life we have D'Artagnan captain of the King's Musketeers The Man in the Iron Mask Annotated Alexandre Dumas, 2020-04-29 The Man in the Iron Mask French L'Homme au Masque de Fer c 1640 19 November 1703 was an unidentified prisoner who was arrested in 1669 or 1670 and subsequently held in a number of French prisons including the Bastille and the Fortress of Pignerol modern Pinerolo Italy He was held in the custody of the same jailer B nigne Dauvergne de Saint Mars for a period of 34 years He died on 19 November 1703 under the name Marchioly during the reign of King Louis XIV of France 1643 1715 Because no one ever saw his face because it was hidden by a mask of black velvet cloth the true identity of the prisoner remains a mystery it has been extensively debated by historians and various theories have been expounded in numerous books and films Among the leading theories are those proposed by writer and philosopher Voltaire He claimed in the second edition of his Questions sur l'Encyclopédie 1771 that the prisoner wore a mask made of iron rather than of cloth and that he was the older illegitimate brother of Louis XIV What little is known about the historical Man in the Iron Mask is based mainly on correspondence between Saint Mars and his superiors in Paris Recent research suggests that his name might have been Eustache Dauger a man who was involved in several political scandals of the late 17th century but this assertion has not been proven The National Archives of France has made available online the original data relating to the inventories of the goods and papers of Saint Mars one inventory of 64 pages was drawn up at the Bastille in 1708 the other of 68 pages at the citadel of Sainte Marguerite in 1691 These documents had been sought in vain for more than a century and were thought to have been lost They were discovered in 2015 among the 100 million documents of the Minutier central des notaires de Paris fr They show that some of the 800 documents in the possession of the jailer Saint Mars were analysed after his death These documents confirm the reputed avarice of Saint Mars who appears to have diverted the funds paid by the king for the prisoner They also give a description of a cell occupied by the masked prisoner which contained only a sleeping mat but no luxuries as was previously thought The Man in the Iron Mask has also appeared in many works of fiction most prominently in the late 1840s by Alexandre Dumas A section of his novel The Vicomte of Bragelonne Ten Years Later the final installment of his D Artagnan saga features the Man in the Iron Mask Here the prisoner is forced to wear an iron mask and is portrayed as Louis XIV s identical twin Dumas also presented a review of the popular theories about the prisoner extant in his time in the chapter L homme au masque de fer in the sixth volume of his non fiction Crimes C l bres
