The fourth edition. Translated from the Latin original. Wherein several errors in the English editions are corrected. To which is added, an appendix, ... In two volumes. Adorned with copper-plates, and a map of Scotland George Buchanan, 1752 Generic Scott MacLochlainn, 2022-11-25 An illuminating look at the concept of the generic and its role in making meaning in the world From off brand products to elevator music the generic is discarded as the copy the knockoff and the old In The Copy Generic anthropologist Scott MacLochlainn insists that more than the waste from the culture machine the generic is a universal social tool allowing us to move through the world with necessary blueprints templates and frames of reference It is the baseline and background a category that orders and values different types of specificity yet remains inherently nonspecific in itself Across arenas as diverse as city planning social media ethnonationalism and religion the generic points to spaces in which knowledge is both overproduced and desperately lacking Moving through ethnographic and historical settings in the Philippines Europe and the United States MacLochlainn reveals how the concept of the generic is crucial to understanding how things repeat circulate and are classified in the world A history of art in ancient Egypt Vol.2 (of 2) (Illustrations) Georges Perrot, Charles Chipiez, 2019-05-19 The successful interpretation of the ancient writings of Egypt Chald a and Persia which has distinguished our times makes it necessary that the history of antiquity should be rewritten Documents that for thousands of years lay hidden beneath the soil and inscriptions which like those of Egypt and Persia long offered themselves to the gaze of man merely to excite his impotent curiosity have now been deciphered and made to render up their secrets for the guidance of the historian By the help of those strings of hieroglyphs and of cuneiform characters illustrated by paintings and sculptured reliefs we are enabled to separate the truth from the falsehood the chaff from the wheat in the narratives of the Greek writers who busied themselves with those nations of Africa and Asia which preceded their own in the ways of civilization Day by day as new monuments have been discovered and more certain methods of reading their inscriptions elaborated we have added to the knowledge left us by Herodotus and Diodorus Siculus to our acquaintance with those empires on the Euphrates and the Nile which were already in old age when the Greeks were yet struggling to emerge from their primitive barbarism Even in the cases of Greece and Rome whose histories are supplied in their main lines by their classic writers the study of hitherto neglected writings discloses many new and curious details The energetic search for ancient inscriptions and the scrupulous and ingenious interpretation of their meaning which we have witnessed and are witnessing have revealed to us many interesting facts of which no trace is to be found in Thucydides or Xenophon in Livy or Tacitus enabling us to enrich with more than one feature the picture of private and public life which they have handed down to us In the effort to embrace the life of ancient times as a whole many attempts have been made to fix the exact place in it occupied by art but those attempts have never been absolutely successful because the comprehension of works of art of plastic creations in the widest significance of that word demands an amount of special knowledge which the great majority of historians are without art has a method and language of its own which obliges those who wish to learn it thoroughly to cultivate their taste by frequenting the principal museums of Europe by visiting distant regions at the cost of considerable trouble and expense by perpetual reference to the great collections of engravings photographs and other reproductions which considerations of space and cost prevent the savant from possessing at home More than one learned author has never visited Italy or Greece or has found no time to examine their museums each of which contains but a small portion of the accumulated remains of antique art Some connoisseurs do not even live in a capital but dwell far from those public libraries which often contain valuable collections and sometimes when they are not packed away in cellars or at the binder's allow them to be studied by the curious 2 The study of art difficult enough in itself is thus rendered still more arduous by the obstacles which are thrown in its way The difficulty of obtaining materials for self improvement in this direction affords the true explanation of the absence in modern histories of antiquity of those laborious researches which have led to such great results since Winckelmann founded the science of arch ology as we know it To be continue in this The Parker Society...: Works of William Tyndale Parker Society (Great Britain), 1848 Doctrinal Treatises and ebook Introductions to Different Portions of the Holy Scriptures William Tyndale, 2005-04-25 The Parker Society was the London based Anglican society that printed in fifty four volumes the works of the leading English Reformers of the sixteenth century It was formed in 1840 and disbanded in 1855 when its work was completed Named after Matthew Parker the first Elizabethan Archbishop of Canterbury who was known as a great collector of books the stimulus for the foundation of the society was provided by the Tractarian movement led by John Henry Newman and Edward B Pusey Some members of this movement spoke disparagingly of the English Reformation and so some members of the Church of England felt the need to make available in an attractive form the works of the leaders of that Reformation Doctrinal Treatises and
