The Man In The Wind:

Writing Okinawa Davinder L. Bhowmik, 2008-08-18 Writing Okinawa is the first comprehensive study in English of Okinawan fiction from its emergence in the early twentieth century through its most recent permutations. It provides readings of major authors and texts set against a carefully researched presentation of the region's political and social history. At the same time, it thoughtfully engages with current critical perspective with perspectives on subaltern identity, colonialism, and post-colonialism and the nature of regional minority and minor literatures. Is Okinawan fiction replete with geographically specific themes such as language loss, identity, and war? A regional literature distinct among Japanese letters for flourishes of local color that offer a reprieve for the urban weary or a minority literature that serves as a site for creative resistance and cultural renewal? This question drives the book's argument, making it interpretative rather than merely descriptive. Not only does the book provide a critical introduction to the major works of Okinawan literature, it also argues that Okinawa's writers consciously exploit to good effect the overlap that exists between regional and minority literature. In so doing, they produce a rich body of work, a great deal of which challenges the notion of a unified nation that seamlessly rises from a single language and culture.

The Man Who Laughs Victor Hugo, 1930 The Man Who Laughs (L'Homme qui Rit) was called by its author A Romance of English History and was written during the period Hugo spent in exile in Guernsey. Like The Toilers of the Sea, its immediate predecessor, the main theme of the story is human heroism confronted with the superhuman tyranny of blind chance. As a passionate cry on behalf of the tortured and deformed and the despised and oppressed of the world, The Man Who Laughs is irresistible. Of it, Hugo himself says in the preface: "The true title of this book should be Aristocracy inasmuch as it was intended as an arraignment of the nobility for their vices, crimes, and selfishness." The Man Who Laughs was first published in 1869.

King and Messiah as Son of God Adela Yarbro Collins, John J. Collins, 2008-11-03. This book traces the history of the idea that the king and later the messiah is Son of God from its origins in ancient Near Eastern royal ideology to its Christian appropriation in the New Testament. Both highly regarded scholars Adela Yarbro Collins and John J. Collins argue that Jesus was called the Son of God precisely because he was believed to be the messianic king. This belief and tradition they contend led to the identification of Jesus as preexistent personified Wisdom or a heavenly being in the New Testament canon. However, the titles Jesus is given are historical titles tracing back to Egyptian New Kingdom ideology. Therefore, the title Son of God is likely solely messianic and not literal. King and Messiah as Son of God is distinctive in its range, spanning both Testaments and informed by ancient Near Eastern literature and Jewish noncanonical literature.
