A History of Women in Psychology and Neuroscience Dale DeBakcsy,2024-09-30 Since virtually its first moments as an academic science women have played a major role in the development of psychology gaining from the outset research opportunities and academic positions that had been denied them for centuries in other branches of scientific investigation Look wherever you will in any branch of psychology or neuroscience in the last century and a half and what you will find are a plethora of women whose discoveries fundamentally changed how we view the brain and its role in the formation of our perceptions and behaviors A History of Women in Psychology and Neuroscience tells the story of 267 women whose work opened new doors in humanity s ongoing attempt to learn about its own nature from Christine Ladd Franklin s late 19th century studies of how the brain perceives color to Virginia Johnson's pioneering studies of the human sexual response and Augusta Dejerine Klumpke's early association of neurological conditions with their underlying brain regions to May Britt Moser's Nobel winning discovery a century later of the grid cells that allow us to mentally model our surroundings Here are the stories of when and how we learned how memories are formed what role an enriched environment plays in mental development why some individuals are better able to cope with chronic stress than others how societal stereotypes unconsciously feed into our daily interactions with other people what role evolution might have played in the formation of our social habits what light the practices of sign language might shed on our brain's basic capacity for language how children internalize the violence they experience from others and hundreds of other tales of the women who dug deep into the structures of the human mind to uncover layer by layer the answers to millennia old questions of what humans are and why they behave as they do

The Soho Press Book of '80s Short Fiction Dale Peck, 2016-06-07 In The Soho Press Book of 80s Short Fiction editor Dale Peck offers readers a fresh take on a seminal period in American history when Ronald Reagan was president the Cold War was rushing to its conclusion and literature was searching for ways to move beyond the postmodern unease of the 1970s Morally charged by newly politicized notions of identity but fraught with anxiety about a body whose fragility had been freshly emphasized by the AIDS epidemic the 34 works gathered here are individually vivid but taken as a body of work they challenge the prevailing notion of the 80s as a time of aesthetic as well as financial maximalism Formally inventive yet tightly controlled they offer a more expansive inclusive view of the era's literary accomplishments The anthology blends early stories from writers like Denis Johnson Jamaica Kincaid Mary Gaitskill and Raymond Carver which have gone on to become part of the American canon with remarkable and often transgressive work from some of the most celebrated writers of the underground including Dennis Cooper Eileen Myles Lynne Tillman and Gary Indiana Peck has also included powerful work by writers such as Gil Cuadros Essex Hemphill and Sam D Allesandro whose untimely deaths from AIDS ended their careers almost before they had begun Almost a third of the stories are out of print and unavailable elsewhere The Soho Press Book of 80s Short Fiction is a daring reappraisal of a decade that is increasingly central to our culture

The Good Funeral Thomas G. Long, Thomas Lynch, 2013-01-01 Before long I began to understand that showing up being there helping in an otherwise helpless situation was made heroic by the same gravity I had sensed when I first stood in that embalming room as a boy the presence of the dead made the presence of the living more meaningful somehow as if it involved a basic and intuitively human duty to witness from Chapter 1 How We Come to Be the Ones We Are Two of the most authoritative voices on the funeral industry come together here in one volume to discuss the current state of the funeral Through their different lenses one as a preacher and one as a funeral director Thomas G Long and Thomas Lynch alternately discuss several challenges facing the good funeral including the commercial aspects that have led many to be suspicious of funeral directors the sometimes tense relationship between pastors and funeral directors the tendency of modern funerals to exclude the body from the service and the rapid growth in cremation The book features forewords from Patrick Lynch President of the National Funeral Directors Association and Barbara Brown Taylor highly praised author and preacher It is an essential resource for funeral directors morticians and pastors and anyone else with an interest in current funeral practices Little Boy Lost Brenda H Gaine, 2021-02-23 This story is about sudden loss and being lost It is about being reunited with a family member The feelings explored is about being bewildered and traumatized by sudden separation from a parent not knowing whether you will see that parent again and the joy of being found by a parent you hadn't seen for a while It is also about sadness and anxiety Coping skills learning to accept that you would not see your parent again and learning to live as a new family group without a mother A Chaplain's Pilgrimage Kiyo Itokazu, 2007-10 From a blissful and innocent childhood years in Lahaina Maui during World War II to the Vietnam War and to terminal patients in healthcare settings the author presents an autobiographical pilgrimage The fear of his own death in Vietnam and the befriending of a catatonic female patient in a psychiatric institution became the catalyst for his psychological emotional and spiritual growth The experiential knowledge enabled him to work in the healthcare field as a Hospital Chaplain With his knowledge of the dynamics of critically ill and terminal patients doctor and patient protocol and medical bio ethics he was able to avoid an unnecessary open heart surgery during a vacation trip to Memphis His pilgrimage continues through his senior years to redeem the God given time he is privileged to enjoy and acknowledge that life is worthwhile at every age He continues to sing with the Psalmist This is the day that the Lord has made let us rejoice and be glad in it Psalm 118 24 NIV
