Zimbabwe International Monetary Fund. African Dept.,2015-04-28 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY Context The Zimbabwean authorities have made progress in implementing their macroeconomic and structural reform programs despite the economic and financial difficulties During 2015 the authorities policy reform agenda will continue to focus on a reducing the primary fiscal deficit to raise Zimbabwe s capacity to repay b restoring confidence in the financial system c improving the business climate and d garnering support for an arrears clearance strategy Recent developments outlook and risks Zimbabwe s economic prospects remain difficult Growth has slowed and is expected to weaken further in 2015 Despite the favorable impact of lower oil prices the external position remains precarious and the country is in debt distress Key risks to the outlook stem largely from a further decline in global commodity prices fiscal challenges and possible difficulties in policy implementation However the authorities are committed to intensifying their efforts to ensure successful implementation of the program and to lay the ground for stronger more inclusive and lasting economic growth Program performance All quantitative targets and structural benchmarks for the first review under the staff monitored program SMP were met The authorities demonstrated strong commitment to the program in a difficult economic and financial environment Moreover they have made meaningful progress in implementing other key structural reforms such as making operational an asset management company and amending the indigenization and empowerment law Reengagement with creditors The authorities have stepped up their reengagement with creditors including by increasing payments to the World Bank WB and the African Development Bank AfDB a key step in their roadmap toward seeking rescheduling of bilateral official debt under the umbrella of the Paris Club These developments constitute important steps toward reengaging with the international financial institutions IFIs They plan to step up their efforts to build consensus among creditors and development partners on ways to address the external arrears Electoral Politics in Zimbabwe, Vol II Esther Mavengano,Sophia Chirongoma,2023-08-08 Volume two of Electoral Politics in Zimbabwe The 2023 Election and Beyond argues that research into Zimbabwe s politics is multifaceted and topical particularly because for more than two decades now this Southern African state has been dogged by multiple problems including hyperinflation drought escalating poverty levels extremely high unemployment rates and political instabilities The volume s overall goal is to ignite intellectual discussions and practical action towards turning the political wheels that have been in place for decades The first segment examines the interface between gender and electoral politics in Zimbabwe The second part discusses the role of the media in Zimbabwe s electoral politics The third section reflects on the role of traditional leaders and religious discourses in Zimbabwe s electoral politics The book will be a key resource to colleges universities and organisations in Zimbabwe the Southern Africa region and even beyond Africa's Population: In Search of a Demographic Dividend Hans Groth,John F. May,2017-05-23 This book examines the promises as well as the challenges the demographic dividend brings to sub Saharan Africa as fertility rates in the region fall and the labor force grows It offers a detailed analysis of what conditions must be met in order for the region to take full economic advantage of ongoing population dynamics As the book makes clear the region will need to accelerate reforms to cope with its demographic transition in particular the decline of fertility The continent will need to foster human capital formation through renewed efforts in the areas of education health and employment This will entail a true vision and determination on the part of African leaders and their development partners The book will help readers to gain solid knowledge of the demographic trends and provide insights into socioeconomic policies that eventually might lead sub Saharan Africa into a successful future

Gender, Disability, and Tourism in Africa Erisher Woyo, Hellen Venganai, 2022-11-10 This book explores the intersection of gender and disability in the context of tourism In part the book foregrounds feminist theorising of intersectionality by examining how gender can overlap with other social identities to contribute to more systemic oppression domination discrimination and marginalisation of certain categories of people Our point of departure is that disability does not operate in isolation as it is constituted and experienced within an already gendered social and tourism environment With substantial research on the intersection of gender and tourism on the one hand and the intersection of disability and tourism on the other hand the interconnectedness of gender and disability and the implications this has on tourism policy and practice remains understudied Thus the book provides a critical lens that helps unpack underlying assumptions about gender and disability while questioning the dominant ideas about gender and disability reproduced through tourism policies and institutional practices in an African context This book will be of interest to scholars and researchers in Gender Studies

Disability Studies and Tourism Studies particularly those with a research interest in Africa

Marriage in Contemporary Zimbabwe Manase Kudzai Chiweshe, 2024-12-19 Marriage has always occupied a profound cultural and social significance in Zimbabwean society but the forms and meanings attached to marriage have changed in recent decades Marriage in Contemporary Zimbabwe provides a social analysis of the institution highlighting how it is changing and evolving in the face of societal factors such as globalisation technology increased migration religious plurality and shifting cultural systems This book traces the evolution of Zimbabwean marriages from traditional pre colonial customs into the diverse modern practices seen today Drawing on rich qualitative insights from across urban rural and diaspora communities it explores the shift in traditional ascribed gender roles and the complex negotiations between persisting tradition and emerging modern influences These influences include women s empowerment partner choice and divorce It explores changes in childrearing and the dissolution of the extended family networks that once governed marriages and provided mutual support The book also explores broader societal transformations such as urban migration and westernisation and the impact of socioeconomic challenges such as HIV AIDS COVID 19 poverty and economic hardship Students and scholars of Zimbabwean history culture gender and the family will find this book essential for understanding the continuities and evolutions of the marriage institution in Zimbabwe

called Zimbabwe the jewel of Africa and cautioned its new leaders not to tarnish it Tragically they paid no heed to Africa's esteemed elder statesmen Arguably and only if one ignores the carnage of Gukurahundi the first decade was a developmental one with resources being used prudently to benefit the formerly disadvantaged majority population However the 1990s witnessed a transition from a developmental to a predatory leadership which saw Zimbabwe cross the millennial line in crisis where it has remained ever since While many African countries have moved forward over the last three decades Zimbabwe has gone relentlessly backwards save for the four year interregnum of the tripartite coalition government 2009-2013 Virtually all development indicators point in the wrong direction and the crisis of poverty unemployment and the erosion of health education and other public goods continues unabated The imperatives of political survival and power politics supersede those of sound economics and public welfare Moreover unless good politics are conjoined with a sound people first policy the country will continue sliding downhill Zimbabwe's Trajectory tells the story of the country's post independence dynamics and its recent descent into becoming one of the three most unhappy countries in the world Transformational Human Resources Management in Zimbabwe Mervis Chiware, Bernard Nkala, Innocent Chirisa, 2022-09-19 This book is a stepping stone toward solving public sector human capital challenges in Zimbabwe as it equips human capital managers with solutions to key issues in the public sector In Zimbabwe the public sector human capital drives the economy as over half of the population access their services through public enterprises Government is the major agent in economic and infrastructure development as well as the production of goods and services However Zimbabwe's public service is underperforming due to poorly motivated and managed employees who do not respond to the needs of its clients This is a cause of concern as the public sector human capital is central to the overall performance of the public sector Often public sector managers and leaders lack advanced relevant and dynamic skills and knowledge to deal with human resource challenges within the New Public Management environment It is critical for the public sector to transform its human resource management to suit twenty first century needs Effective human resource management in the public sector leads to economic growth and therefore the achievement of the Zimbabwe National Vision 2030 Therefore this book serves as a guide for public sector managers and those directly or indirectly involved in human capital management It provides in depth knowledge and guidance in effective human capital management within the context of the public sector in Zimbabwe

Trade in Zimbabwe Richard Newfarmer, Martha Denisse Pierola, 2015-05-26 In Zimbabwe trade has been a driver of economic growth rising incomes and progressive empowerment of Zimbabweans through rising standards of living and the promise of better jobs Since 1980 through good years and bad years increases in exports have been positively associated with increases in national income Zimbabwe s location and resource base together with a low cost but relatively well educated labor force have endowed it with a naturally high trade ratio built on a diversified base that facilitates using trade as an engine of growth While trade volumes have rebounded smartly from the deep recession of 2007 2008 these do not offset other worrisome longer term trends Export growth during the last decade has been lacklustre and failed to drive high growth Agricultural exports other than tobacco have lost their once dominant role in the region and are no longer a source of diversification Manufacturing has withered in a continuing secular decline Zimbabwe's export basket has become less diversified and more dependent on a narrow range of mineral and to a lesser extent agricultural products In short exports have become less diversified less technologically sophisticated and less labor intensive and ever more dependent on a few large mining activities to provide foreign exchange and employment This report traces the roots of this poor performance to several policy issues poor predictability of macroeconomic policy and economic governance has created an unfavorable climate for private investment and trade a tariff structure that dampens export profitability industrial policies indigenization policy in particular that undermine investor confidence and inhibits private investment and finally competition limiting policies toward services that limit connectivity of Zimbabweans and raise trade costs The good news arising from the study is that the remedies for these policy shortcomings lie in Zimbabwean hands If the government were to adopt reforms that reconfigure economy wide incentives and trade and industrial policies it could promote sustained growth economic diversification and empowerment of poor people

Migration and Democracy Abel

Escribà-Folch, Covadonga Meseguer Yebra, Joseph Wright, Covadonga Meseguer, 2022-01-11 In the rich and growing body of work on democracy there has been little attention to the connection between democracy and migration and when there is it is usually in connection with countries that see in migration rather than out migration The latter is the focus of this book which looks specifically at remittances money sent from a migrant back to their home country and how they reshape the internal balance of power by influencing the incentives and opportunities for political action among individuals receiving remittance income Not only do remittances provide the resources that make contentious collective action possible but they also reduce households dependence on state delivered goods and thus undermine the effectiveness of regime patronage strategies that underpin electoral authoritarianism The book starts with a general examination of international migration and associated remittance flows pointing out that remittance flows have become so great as to be one of the largest sources of foreign income in autocracies and one that goes directly to democratizing agents that is to individuals largely circumventing authoritarian governments The authors then look the mechanisms that cause non democracies collapse and how these mechanisms are encouraged by remittances Specifically the authors look at how remittances increase the likelihood of individual level protest decrease the appeal of patronage networks and act as an accelerant during the democratizing process

Discrimination and Access to Justice in Africa Wellman Kondowe, Paul Svongoro, 2025-05-23

There are different forms of discrimination Among others people can be discriminated against on the basis of their ethnic grouping political affiliation race gender age and language This book focuses on linguistic discrimination in Africa acknowledging that language plays a key role in the delivery of justice and much of what transpires in justice systems deals with language use. It argues that to achieve fairness the state has a responsibility to put in place accommodations aimed at reducing linguistic vulnerability. The collection interrogates some of the issues that are common in Africa which is arguably one of the most linguistically diverse continents in the world bringing together a collection of case studies from Malawi, South Africa, Zimbabwe, Tanzania, Kenya and Zambia. It presents practical insights from academics, legal professionals and social scientists. Divided into five thematic parts, the first addresses communication and linguistic challenges faced by children in the legal system. Theme 2 examines the position of witnesses with physical challenges. The third theme focuses on language as a barrier in access to justice. Theme 4 looks at the language of the court as a major barrier to the poor and the illiterate. The fifth and final theme examines the position of women in sexual assault cases. The collection will be of interest to academics, researchers and policymakers working in the areas of law and language, human rights, law, criminology, linguistics and African Studies.

Africa and the Formation of the New System of International Relations—Vol. II Alexey M. Vasiliev, Denis A. Degterev, Timothy M. Shaw, 2023-10-03. In light of the growing number of African summits and a new awareness of international interdependence during the COVID 19 pandemic, this book provides a comprehensive analysis of the current state of Africa's international relations. IR Leading IR scholars from Africa and around the world examine international cooperation with African countries in areas such as health care, education and peacekeeping and explore how Africa's role in the system of international relations has changed during the COVID 19 pandemic. The book is divided into four parts, the first of which explores and analyzes the various actors that constitute African agency in the post pandemic world while the second focuses on the summits of the major powers regarding cooperation with Africa. The third part covers public health cooperation and regional initiatives in Africa including issues such as vaccine diplomacy while the fourth and final part discusses conflicts and political process despite COVID Pandemics.

The Impact of Inflation and Monetary Policy Shocks on Stock Market Performance in Zimbabwe Mkhululi Ncube, 2024-05-16. Bachelor Thesis from the year 2023 in the subject Economics Finance grade Distinction National University of Science Technology Zimbabwe Finance language English abstract. This study examines the impact of inflation and monetary policy shocks on stock market performance in Zimbabwe from 2000 to 2022. The study analyzes the relationship between different variables using regression analysis using data obtained from the Zimbabwe Stock Exchange (ZSE) returns, inflation rates obtained from the Zimbabwe National Statistics Agency (ZIMSTAT) and interest rates obtained from the Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe. In this regression, ZSE returns are the dependent variable while inflation and interest rates are the independent variables. The research findings suggest that inflation has a negative impact while monetary policy shocks have a positive impact on stock market performance in Zimbabwe. The study finds that inflation has a significant and persistent negative effect on stock market returns with a one standard deviation shock in inflation leading to a significant decline in stock market returns. Moreover, the study identifies that monetary policy shocks such as changes in interest rates have a significant impact on stock market returns but the effect is less pronounced compared to inflation in Zimbabwe Furthermore the study examines the transmission channels through which monetary policy shocks affect the stock market in Zimbabwe The results suggest that changes in interest rates affect the stock market mainly through their impact on inflation expectations and exchange rates This highlights the importance of considering both monetary and macroeconomic factors when analyzing the impact of monetary policy on the stock market in Zimbabwe The study concludes that high inflation rates and frequent monetary policy interventions have a detrimental effect on stock market performance in Zimbabwe The findings of this research are relevant to investors policymakers and analysts who are interested in understanding the relationship between inflation monetary policy and stock market performance in Zimbabwe The study also analyzed the impact of GDP and exchange rate as control variables on stock market performance The results suggested that changes in exchange rates have a negative impact on stock market returns GDP have a negative impact The joint impact of inflation and monetary policy shocks was also found to be significant indicating that both variables affect stock returns
