Ancient Graffiti in Context Jennifer Baird, Claire Taylor, 2010-10-18 Graffiti are ubiquitous within the ancient world but remain underexploited as a form of archaeological or historical evidence They include a great variety of texts and images written or drawn inside and outside buildings in public and private places on monuments in the city on objects used in daily life and on mountains in the countryside In each case they can be seen as actively engaging with their environment in a variety of ways Ancient Graffiti in Context interrogates this cultural phenomenon and by doing so brings it into the mainstream of ancient history and archaeology Focusing on different approaches to and interpretations of graffiti from a variety of sites and chronological contexts Baird and Taylor pose a series of questions not previously asked of this evidence such as What are graffiti and how can we interpret them In what ways and with whom do graffiti communicate To what extent do graffiti represent or subvert the cultural values of the society in which they occur By comparing themes across time and space and viewing graffiti in context this book provides a series of interpretative strategies for scholars and students of the ancient world As such it will be essential reading for Classical archaeologists and historians alike
