Discrimination in an Unequal World Miguel Angel Centeno, Katherine S. Newman, 2010-09 Is globalization making our world more equal or less Proponents of globalization argue that it is helping and that in a competitive world no one can afford to discriminate except on the basis of skills Opponents counter that globalization does nothing but provide a meritocratic patina on a consistently unequal distribution of opportunity Yet despite the often deafening volume of the debate there is surprisingly little empirical work available on the extent to which the process of globalization over the past quarter century has had any effect on discrimination Tackling this challenge Discrimination in an Unequal World explores the relationship between discrimination and unequal outcomes in the appropriate geographical and historical context Noting how each society tends to see its particular version of discrimination as universal and obvious the editors expand their set of cases to include a broad variety of social relations and practices However since methods differ and are often designed for particular national circumstances they set the much more ambitious and practical goal of establishing a base with which different forms of discrimination across the world can be compared

Derived from a broad array of methods the book draws many important lessons on the new means by which the world creates social hierarchies the democratization of inequality and the disappearance of traditional categories Fees Must Fall

Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it s double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt Breaking a Rainbow, Building a Nation

Rekgotsofetse Chikane, 2018-10-01 Breaking a Rainbow Building a Nation is a first hand account of the university protests that gripped South Africa between 2015 and 2017 widely better known as the FeesMustFall Chikane outlines the nature of student politics in the country before during and after the emergence of MustFall politics exploring the political dynamics that informed and drove the student protests and the effect that these MustFall movements have had on the nature of youth politics in the country Chikane looks at how the current nature of youth politics is different from previous youth upheavals that have defined South Africa specifically due to the fact that the protests were being led by so called coconuts who are part of the black elite Breaking a Rainbow Building a Nation poses the provocative question can coconuts be trusted with the revolution Let's Talk About Varsity ,2009 From School to Higher Education? Michael Cosser, Jacques Du

Toit, 2002 This substantive report is essential reading for those involved in higher education planning and policy making

South Africa Can Work Frans Rautenbach, 2017-08-18 What will it take to turn South Africa around In this insightful and provocative book Frans Rautenbach proposes a complete overhaul of policy thinking and provides fresh arguments that effectively address South Africa s unemployment race problems and lack of education Rautenbach examines the fundamental problem of rent seeking to which he proposes two antidotes the free market and decentralisation of government Along the way he tackles holy cows such as affirmative action trade unions labour law and welfare payments He also addresses contentious topics such as racism white privilege political correctness state funding of higher education and mounting evidence that trade unions substantially suppress employment growth Written by a labour lawyer with a proven track record in a range of policy issues South Africa Can Work speaks effectively to a cross section of readers of all disciplines and brings sorely needed good news

Government Managing Risk Bruce Chapman,2006-09-27 Higher education rates are increasing throughout the Western world yet at the same time government budgets face increasing constraints This has ensured that the importance of student support is recognized in many countries In recent years there has been a world wide movement towards the use of income contingent loans ICL for higher education ICLs are now used in six countries following the Australian innovation of 1989 with the governments of many more countries looking very seriously at the model This impressive new book by Bruce Chapman analyzes ICLs particularly their use in supporting students exploring the experiences of a number of other countries adopting them Chapman presents analysis of a number of disparate case studies to illustrate how ICLs can aid risk management policy reforming in both progressive and administratively feasible ways This book describes examines and promotes an exciting new role for the public sector as a manager of risk and argues that ICLs have enormous potential to change the extent and nature of social and economic activities With the author s experience in the design and implementation of the Australian student financial support schemes this is a knowledgeable informative and enlightening book that will be useful to researchers students and policy makers alike

Going to University Case, Jennifer,Marshall, Delia,2018-02-09 Around the world more young people than ever before are attending university Student numbers in South Africa have doubled since democracy and for many families higher education is a route to a better future for their children But alongside the overwhelming demand for higher education questions about its purposes have intensified Deliberations about the curriculum culture and costing of public higher education abound from student activists academics parents civil society and policy makers We know from macro research that South African graduates generally have good employment prospects But little is known at a detailed level about how young people actually make use of their university experiences to craft their life courses And even less is known about what happens to those who drop out This accessible book brings together the rich life stories of 73 young people six years after they began their university studies It traces how going to university influences not only their employment options but also nurtures the agency needed to chart their own way and to engage critically with the world around them The book offers deep insights into the ways in which public higher education is both a private and public good and it provides significant conclusions pertinent to anyone who works in and cares about universities

Handbook of the Economics of Education Eric A. Hanushek,F. Welch,2006-10-30 The Handbooks in Economics series continues to provide the various branches of economics with handbooks which are definitive reference sources suitable for use by professional researchers advanced graduate students or by those seeking a teaching supplement With contributions from leading researchers each Handbook presents an accurate self contained survey of the current state of the topic under examination These surveys summarize the most recent discussions in journals and elucidate new developments Although original material is also included the main aim of this series is the provision of comprehensive and accessible surveys Every volume contains contributions from leading researchers Each Handbook presents an accurate self contained survey of a particular topic The series provides comprehensive and accessible surveys Corrupted Jonathan D

Jansen,2023-02 Through investigatory reports and interviews Jonathan Jansen reveals the structural conditions for chronic dysfunction in a sample of South African universities He reveals the political economy at work and the intense competition for resources on campuses He also provides interventions for these fragile institutions Shadow Libraries Joe

Karaganis,2018-05-04 How students get the materials they need as opportunities for higher education expand but funding shrinks From the top down Shadow Libraries explores the institutions that shape the provision of educational materials from the formal sector of universities and publishers to the broadly informal ones organized by faculty copy shops student unions and students themselves It looks at the history of policy battles over access to education in the post World War II era and at the narrower versions that have played out in relation to research and textbooks from library policies to book subsidies to more recently the several open publication models that have emerged in the higher education sector From the bottom up Shadow Libraries explores how simply students get the materials they need It maps the ubiquitous practice of photocopying and what are in many cases the more marginal ones of buying books visiting libraries and downloading from unauthorized sources It looks at the informal networks that emerge in many contexts to share materials from face to face student networks to Facebook groups and at the processes that lead to the consolidation of some of those efforts into more organized archives that circulate offline and sometimes online the shadow libraries of the title If Alexandra Elbakyan s Sci Hub is the largest of these efforts to date the more characteristic part of her story is the prologue the personal struggle to participate in global scientific and educational communities and the recourse to a wide array of ad hoc strategies and networks when formal authorized means are lacking If Elbakyan s story has struck a chord it is in part because it brings this contradiction in the academic project into sharp relief universalist in principle and unequal in practice Shadow Libraries is a study of that tension in the digital era Contributors Bal zs Bod Laura Czerniewicz Mirosław Filiciak Mariana Fossatti Jorge Gemetto Eve Gray Evelin Heidel Joe Karaganis Lawrence Liang Pedro Mizukami Jhessica Reia Alek Tarkowski

Cost-sharing and Accessibility in Higher Education: A Fairer Deal? Pedro N. Teixeira,D. Bruce Johnstone,Maria J. Rosa,Hans Vossensteyn,2007-11-23 Higher education finances lie at the crossroads in many Western countries Hence worldwide the most common approach to the need for increasing revenue was to use some form or forms of cost sharing or the shift of some of the higher educational per student costs from governments and taxpayers to parents and students This raises several important challenges to higher education systems First there is the political and social controversy associated with most forms of cost sharing particularly with tuition fees Secondly there are important issues in terms of the broad context of social policy such as the role of families and students and the relationship that the state establishes with each of them Third there is the comparison of alternative instruments of cost sharing and the direct and indirect effects of each of them notably in terms of educational equality Overall underlying cost sharing debates are fundamental questions about social choice individual opportunities and the role of government in society      Annual Report South Africa.
