The Prehistory Of Scotland V. Gordon Childe, 2014-10-24 This volume originally published in 1935 sought to reveal the significance of Scottish prehistory for the development of understanding of European prehistory Written at a time of rapid accumulation of new relics and monuments and the insights from them Professor Childe presented some important new data and made tentative conclusions for the future results from these finds After an introduction to the geography of Scotland the book looks at evidence from cairns tombs and stone circles and then addresses chronologically the evidence from Early Bronze Age to Late and onto the Iron Age with a chapter devoted to forts towns and castles It ends with a discussion of what happened in the Dark Ages and addresses questions about the Celts and the Picts and the diversity of the peoples in Scotland

The Prehistoric Peoples of Scotland Stuart Piggott, 2014-10-30 Based on lectures given at the Conference of the British Summer School of Archaeology at Edinburgh in 1954 this book published in 1962 surveys the general field of pre historic Scotland five archaeologists each contributing chapters discussing the main aspects and problems that have presented themselves in specialised research areas From the first peopling of the area by human communities with hunting and food gathering economies to field antiquities and the introduction of copper and bronze metallurgy and on to the first settlement by Celtic speakers and the links to the first historically documented Scotland Contributors R J C Atkinson G E Daniel T G E Powell and C A R Radford Scotland Before the Scots V. Gordon Childe, 2021-10-12 Originally published in 1946 this book presents in what can arguably be described as an unusual way a slice of Scottish social life by applying to prehistory the principles of Marxism as practised by Soviet scholars of Russian prehistory Using archaeological evidence the author distinguishes 6 stages from the earliest definable groups of immigrants to the Iron Age There are 10 appendices devoted to the typology and classification of tombs pottery implements and fortifications Prehistoric Europe Andrew Jones, 2008-11-10 Prehistoric Europe Theory and Practice provides a comprehensive introduction to the range of critical contemporary thinking in the study of European prehistory Presents essays by some of the most dynamic researchers and leading European scholars in the field today Ranges from the Neolithic period to the early stages of the Iron Age and from Ireland and Scandinavia to the Urals and the Iberian Peninsula Archaeology Hannah Cobb, Kevin Greene, Tom Moore, 2024-03-19 This fully updated sixth edition of a classic classroom text is essential reading for core courses in archaeology Archaeology An Introduction explains how the subject emerged from an amateur pursuit in the eighteenth century into a serious discipline and explores changing trends in interpretation in recent decades The authors convey the excitement of archaeology while helping readers to evaluate new discoveries by explaining the methods and theories that lie behind them In addition to drawing upon examples and case studies from many regions of the world and periods of the past the book incorporates the authors own fieldwork research and teaching It continues to include key reference and further reading sections to help new readers find their way through the ever expanding range of archaeological publications and online sources as well as colour illustrations and boxed topic sections to increase comprehension Serving as an accessible and lucid textbook and engaging students with contemporary issues this book is designed to support students studying Archaeology at an introductory level New to the sixth edition Inclusion of the latest survey and imaging techniques such as the use of drones and eXtended reality Updated material on developments in dating DNA analysis isotopes and population movement including consideration of the ethical considerations of these techniques Coverage of new developments in archaeological theory such as the material turn ontological turn and work on issues of equality diversity and inclusion A whole new chapter covering archaeology in the present including new sections on heritage and public archaeology and an updated consideration of archaeology's relationship with the climate crisis A revised glossary with over 200 new additions or updates

Celts Martin J Dougherty, 2015-09-25 Before the Roman Empire the Celts dominated central and western Europe Highly illustrated Celts examines the different tribes and how they lived fought and survived as a people revealing the truth behind the stories of naked warriors beheadings druids and magic

Prehistoric Farming in Europe Graeme Barker, 1985-07-11 Drawing upon his own extensive knowledge of European archaeology Graeme Barker has impressively integrated the full range of archaeological data to produce in this book a masterly account of prehistoric farming in Europe on a unique scale He makes use of modern archaeological techniques to reconstruct the lives of prehistoric farmers in remarkable detail Not only do we now have a vivid picture of the prehistoric farmyard but we know what animals were kept how they were fed and why they were bred Evidence for crops grown and techniques of cultivation and husbandry helps recreate the prehistoric landscape Even the social organisation that determined the use of resources and provided the crucial stimulus for agricultural change can be relived Graeme Barker develops his argument through analogies with the agricultural history of classical and medieval Europe and concludes that today's industrial farmers can learn much from the successes and failures of early European farming

Auditory Archaeology Steve Mills, 2016-06-16 This book offers a methodology for studying sound providing a flexible and widely applicable set of elements that can be adapted for use in a broad range of archaeological and heritage contexts

The Archaeology of Contextual Meanings Ian Hodder, 1987-08-06 This companion volume to Archaeology as Long term History focuses on the symbolism of artefacts It seeks at once to refine the theory and method relating to interpretation and show with examples how to conduct this sort of archaeological work Some contributors work with the material culture of modern times or the historic period areas in which the symbolism of mute artefacts has traditionally been thought most accessible However the book also contains a good number of applications in prehistory to demonstrate the feasibility of symbolic interpretation where good contextual data survive from the distant past In relation to wider debates within the social sciences the volume is characterised by a concern to place abstract symbolic codes within their historical context and within the contexts of social actions In this respect it develops further some of the ideas presented in Dr Hodder's Symbolic and Structural Archaeology an earlier volume in this series The Economy of a Norse Settlement in the Outer Hebrides Niall Sharples, 2020-11-23 This book explores the economic evidence for the settlement at Bornais on South Uist It reports in detail on the large assemblages of material found during the excavations at mounds 2 and 2A There is important evidence for craft activity such as bone and antler working and this includes the only comb making workshop from a rural settlement in Britain A large proportion of the copper alloy bone and antler assemblages comprise pieces of personal adornment and provide important information on the dress and thereby social relations within the settlement occupation There is a large assemblage of iron tools and fittings which provides important information on the activities taking place at the settlement The information derived from the artefact assemblages is complemented by that provided by the ecofactual material Large amounts of animal fish and bird bones plus carbonised plant remains provide detailed information on agricultural practices and the processing preparation and consumption of foodstuffs It is clear that the Norse inhabitants of the settlement had access to a much richer variety of resources than had been exploited before the Viking colonisation of the region The settlement also had a significantly wider range of connections material culture indicates contacts to the south with the Irish Sea ports and Bristol and to the north with Shetland and the Viking homelands of Norway The evidence produced by these excavations is exceptional and provides an unparalleled opportunity to explore medieval life in the Scandinavian kingdoms of Western Britain A Companion to the History of Science Bernard Lightman, 2019-11-12 The Wiley Blackwell Companion to the History of Science is a single volume companion that discusses the history of science as it is done today providing a survey of the debates and issues that dominate current scholarly discussion with contributions from leading international scholars Provides a single volume overview of current scholarship in the history of science edited by one of the leading figures in the field Features forty essays by leading international scholars providing an overview of the key debates and developments in the history of science Reflects the shift towards deeper historical contextualization within the field Helps communicate and integrate perspectives from the history of science with other areas of historical inquiry Includes discussion of non Western themes which are integrated throughout the chapters Divided into four sections based on key analytic categories that reflect new approaches in the field Annual Bulletin of Historical Literature Historical Association (Great Britain), 1961 Theatre/archaeology Mike Pearson, Michael Shanks, 2001 Theatre Archaeology is a provocative challenge to disciplinary practice and intellectual boundaries It brings together radical proposals in both archaeological and performance theory to generate a startlingly original and intriguing methodological framework The First Scottish Enlightenment Kelsey Jackson Williams, 2020 This book argues that the first Scottish Enlightenment was championed by minority groups traditionally assumed to have been backward looking and conservative Jacobites Episcopalians and Catholics and that it resulted in a dramatic transformation of how Scots understood their history Disinformation Guide to Ancient

Aliens, Lost Civilizations, Astonishing Archaeology & Hidden History Preston Peet, 2013-01-01 If you think the history you were taught in school was accurate you're in for a big surprise This group of researchers blows the lid off everything you thought you knew about the origins of the human race and the culture we live in Cover p 4 Atlas of Prehistoric Britain John Manley, 1989 The prehistoric past of the British Isles has long been a source of wonder In this new and richly illustrated book John Manley makes full use of all the latest discoveries to provide an up to date informative and highly readable account of prehistoric Britain and Ireland from the first meagre evidence of hunter gatherers to the sophisticated society that the Romans encountered on their invasion of Britain in 43 AD Book jacket

The Circular Archetype in Microcosm: The Carved Stone Balls of Late Neolithic Scotland Chris L. Stewart-Moffitt, 2022-07-14 This study is the culmination of seven years research into the Carved Stone Balls of Late Neolithic Scotland It is the first study of these enigmatic artefacts since that undertaken by Dorothy Marshall in 1977 and includes all currently known examples in both museums and private hands described and analysed in considerable detail Enclosing Space, Opening New Ground Tanja Romankiewicz, Manuel Fernández-Götz, Gary Lock, Olivier Büchsenschütz, 2019-03-31 Enclosures are among the most widely distributed features of the European Iron Age From fortifications to field systems they demarcate territories and settlements sanctuaries and central places burials and ancestral grounds This dividing of the physical and the mental landscape between an inside and an outside is investigated anew in a series of essays by some of the leading scholars on the topic The contributions cover new ground from Scotland to Spain between France and the Eurasian steppe on how concepts and communities were created as well as exploring specific aspects and broader notions of how humans marked bounded and guarded landscapes in order to connect across space and time A recurring theme considers how Iron Age enclosures created curated formed or deconstructed memory and identity and how by enclosing space these communities opened links to an earlier past in order to understand or express their Iron Age presence In this way the contributions examine perspectives that are of wider relevance for related themes in different periods

Beyond the Romans Irene Selsvold, Lewis Webb, 2020-04-09 This latest volume in the TRAC Themes in Theoretical Roman Archaeology series takes up posthuman theoretical perspectives to interpret Roman material culture These perspectives provide novel and compelling ways of grappling with theoretical problems in Roman archaeology producing new knowledge and questions about the complex relationships and interactions between humans and non humans in Roman culture and society Posthumanism constitutes a multitude of theoretical positions characterised by common critiques of anthropocentrism and human exceptionalism In part they react to the dominance of the linguistic turn in humanistic sciences These positions do not exclude the human but instead stress the mutual relationship between matter and discourse Moreover they consider the agency of non humans e g animals material culture landscapes climate and ideas their entanglement with humans and the situated nature of research Posthumanism has had substantial impacts in several fields including critical studies archaeology feminist studies even politics but have not yet emerged in any fulsome way in Classical

Studies and Classical Archaeology This is the first volume on these themes in Roman Archaeology aimed at providing valuable perspectives into Roman myth art and material culture displacing and complicating notions of human exceptionalism and individualist subjectivity Contributions consider non human agencies particularly animal material environmental and divine agencies critiques of binary oppositions and gender roles and the Anthropocene Ultimately the papers stress that humans and non humans are entangled and imbricated in larger systems we are all post human
