The Rainmaker By John Grisham Doubleday April 30 1995:

Domestic Violence Richard L. Davis, 1998-08-20 This is an honest and insightful discussion of domestic violence from the perspective of a police officer who has experienced it in his home and encountered it professionally Davis a sociologist as well uses his dual background to demonstrate that current treatment of domestic violence abuses is ineffective A must read for all police officers criminologists and citizens who care about finding a successful solution to this issue Ann W Burgess Chair of the Panel on Research on Violence Against Women established by the National Research Council in 1995 at the request of congress writes that Since the mid 1970s the body of research on violence against women has grown yet misinformation abounds and we seem little closer to ending violence against women now than 20 years ago This book proposes that continuing to rely on the criminal justice system as the remedy for domestic violence is irresponsible and illogical public policy This nation remains incapable of framing a coherent consistent or understandable criminal justice procedure that has effectively prevented domestic violence Arrest without proper sanctions or proper supervision of abusers and the issuance of civil restraining orders without valid programs in place to assist the victims of abuse are predestined to failure Current policies that provide for reactive intervention in domestic violence incidents must be replaced by policies that address the cause of domestic violence rather than simply treating its symptoms This book explains why the criminal justice system can not prevent domestic violence and what the proper role of the criminal justice system should be To prevent domestic violence we must concentrate on educational programs and policies that provide for alteration of our social and cultural patterns of behavior that foster this form of abuse The formula to prevent or curb the continued escalation of domestic violence is available to women by means of our democratic process Women can challenge the thousands of years of male domination politically economically and socially by taking public office. The instrumentality to curb what goes on behind the closed doors of our homes and the mechanism to challenge what goes on behind the closed mahogany doors of Capitol Hill are one and the same The illusory goal of equality of gender equality and sameness are not synonymous should be exchanged for a goal of an equity of conduct and a comportment of behavior that provides for fairness and frankness towards one another and a renewed respect for each other New York Times Saturday Book Review Supplement, 1995-06 The Wall Street Journal ,1994 The Publishers Weekly ,1996 Embracing Risk Tom Baker, Jonathan Simon, 2010-02-15 For much of the twentieth century industrialized nations addressed social problems such as workers compensation benefits and social welfare programs in terms of spreading risk But in recent years a new approach has emerged using risk both as a way to conceive of and address social problems and as an incentive to reduce individual claims on collective resources Embracing Risk explores this new approach from a variety of perspectives The first part of the book focuses on the interplay between risk and insurance in various historical and social contexts The second part examines how risk is used to govern fields outside the realm of insurance from extreme sports to policing mental health institutions and international law Offering an original approach to risk insurance and responsibility the provocative and wide ranging essays in Embracing Risk demonstrate that risk has moved well beyond its origins in the insurance trade to become a central organizing principle of American Baptist Quarterly, 2000 social and cultural life Quill & Quire ,1995 Huxford's Old Book Value Guide Bob Huxford, Sharon Huxford, 1999-03 Listing nearly 25 000 book titles with current values this updated and revised 11th edition features a simple and easy to use format Bowker's Guide to Characters in Fiction 2007, 2008-02 Stanford, 1995 The Guinness Book of World Records .1997 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1996-06 Hands-on Internet for Brinkman's Cumulatieve catalogus van boeken de in Nederland en vlaanderen zijn Windows Neil J.
