The Regional Diversification of Latin 200 BC - AD 600 J. N. Adams, 2007-12-13 Classical Latin appears to be without regional dialects yet Latin evolved in little more than a millennium into a variety of different languages This book argues comprehensively that Latin in fact never lacked regional variations and examines the changing patterns and causes of this diversity throughout the Roman period The Regional Diversification of Latin, 200 BC - AD 600, 2007 Latin

Linguistics Wolfgang David Cirilo de Melo, 2023-12-18 Latin Linguistics is intended as an overview of the main areas of linguistics geared specifically to the scholar of Latin The book consists of eight chapters an introduction followed by discussions of phonology morphology syntax variation linguistics pragmatics and sociolinguistics with a final chapter discussing texts from three different periods to demonstrate how linguistic analysis can deepen our understanding of Latin Most introductions to phonology cover a range of theories such as Autosegmental Phonology or Optimality Theory these contribute relatively little to our understanding of Latin as such On the other hand a Latinist needs to know how we can reconstruct pronunciation what the limits of reconstruction are and how closely orthography mirrors pronunciation My chapter on phonology deals with these aspects The same can be said mutatis mutandis for the other chapters What makes this book unique then is the fact that it covers a wide range of topics in a deliberately selective way tailored to the needs of Latinists Social Factors in the Latinization of the Roman West Alex Mullen, 2024-01-19 This volume provides a collection of chapters written by an multidisciplinary collection of experts on the topic of Latinization in the western part of the Roman Empire Topics covered include administration army economy law mobility religion local and imperial religions and Christianity social status and urbanism The Languages of Early Medieval Charters, 2020-11-23 This is the first major study of the interplay between Latin and Germanic vernaculars in early medieval records Building on previous work on the uses of the written word in the early Middle Ages which has dispelled the myth that this was an age of orality the contributions in this volume bring to the fore the crucial question of language choice in the documentary cultures of early medieval societies Specifically they examine the interactions between Latin and Germanic vernaculars in the Anglo Saxon and eastern Frankish worlds and in neighbouring areas The chapters are underpinned by an important comparative dimension on account of the two regions shared linguistic heritage and numerous cross Channel links Contributors are Stefan Esders Albert Fenton Robert Gallagher Wolfgang Haubrichs Charles Insley Kathryn A Lowe Rosamond McKitterick Rory Naismith Janet L Nelson Edward Roberts Annina Seiler Marco Stoffella Francesca Tinti Kate Wiles Bernhard Zeller See inside the book Latinization, Local Languages, and Literacies in the Roman West, 2024-11-14 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read on Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations The patchwork of local languages which existed across the western provinces in the Iron Age was radically reconfigured by the rise of Latin Latinization Local Languages and Literacies

in the Roman West offers a detailed anatomy of the local and regional patterning across Britain Gaul the Germanies and the Iberian Peninsula primarily from the later Republic to the end of the Principate The chapters draw on a combination of various sets of evidence and an interdisciplinary perspective historical archaeological sociolinguistic and epigraphic to uncover local voices tracking differential Latinization and revealing the probable survival of local languages alongside or even to the exclusion of Latin in some communities in non Mediterranean areas The results underscore the variety of factors involved in language change and the importance of sensitivity to local communities By including everyday writing in their epigraphic evidence the volume reveals regionality in the varieties of Latin used and disparities in engagement in both the epigraphic habit and broader literate practices New data enable the description of types of literacies and movement away from debates on provincial percentages of literacy and from generalizations about associated social dynamics Contributors to the volume grapple with the characterful datasets they have created and collated the careful treatment of which enables the exploration of a range of themes vital for understanding provincial life The complexity uncovered by these studies will be a starting point for future investigations

Augustine the African Catherine Conybeare, 2025-08-12 An extraordinary work of revisionist history that centers Africa in the life of one of our greatest philosophers Augustine of Hippo 354-430 also known as Saint Augustine was one of the most influential theologians in history His writings including the autobiographical Confessions and The City of God helped shape the foundations of Christianity and Western philosophy But for many centuries Augustine's North African birth and Berber heritage have been simply dismissed Catherine Conybeare a world renowned Augustine scholar here puts the African back in Augustine's story As she relates his seminal books were written neither in Rome nor in Milan but in Africa where he had returned as a wanderer during a perilous time when the Western Roman Empire was crumbling Using extant letters and other shards of evidence Conybeare retraces Augustine's travels revealing how his groundbreaking works emerge from an exile's perspective within an African context In its depiction of this Christian saint Augustine the African upends conventional wisdom and traces core ideas of Christian thought to their origins on the African continent

Lists and Catalogues in Ancient Literature and Beyond Rebecca Laemmle, Cédric Scheidegger Laemmle, Katharina Wesselmann, 2021-02-22 Lists and catalogues have been en vogue in philosophy cultural media and literary studies for more than a decade These explorations of enumerative modes however have not yet had the impact on classical scholarship that they deserve While they routinely take a limited set of ancient models as their starting point there is no comparably comprehensive study that focuses on antiquity conversely studies on lists and catalogues in Classics remain largely limited to individual texts and with some notable exceptions offer little in terms of explicit theorising The present volume is an attempt to close this gap and foster the dialogue between the recent theoretical reappraisal of enumerative modes and scholarship on ancient cultures The 16 contributions to the volume juxtapose literary forms of enumeration with an abundance of ancient non sub or para literary practices of listing and cataloguing In their different approaches to this vast and heterogeneous corpus they offer a sense of the hermeneutic epistemic and methodological challenges with which the study of enumeration is faced and elucidate how pragmatics materiality performativity and aesthetics are mediated in lists and catalogues
