Artists of the Possible Matthew

Grossmann, 2014 Do policymakers heed the voices of the American public or only the lobbyists in Washington Why do they take action on health reform but not gun control Why does policymaking usually move slowly and sometimes not at all Artists of the Possible takes on these questions analyzing sixty years of domestic policy history to provide a new understanding of what drives policymaking in all three branches of government The results are surprising public policy does not address the public's largest concerns The amount of policy and its liberal or conservative direction emerges instead from coalition building and compromises among political elites Elections public opinion and media coverage have little impact no matter the issue area Even changes in Washington s partisan balance and ideological divides fail to reliably produce shifts in policy direction This data rich exhaustively researched work overturns our most basic assumptions about how policy is made challenging the notion that our government is of by and for the people The Challenge of Teaching English in Indonesian's Muhammadiyah Universities (1958-2005) Dewi Candraningrum,2008
