Carr, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-05-31 What is the meaning of peace why should we study it and how should we achieve it Although there are an increasing number of manuscripts curricula and initiatives that grapple with some strand of peace education there is nonetheless a dearth of critical cross disciplinary international projects books that examine peace education in conjunction with war and conflict Within this volume the authors contend that war military conflict violence are not a nebulous far away mysterious venture rather they argue that we are all collectively involved in perpetrating and perpetuating militarization conflict violence inside and outside of our own social circles Therefore education about and against war can be as liberating as it is necessary If war equates killing can our schools avoid engaging in the examination of what war is all about If education is not about peace then is it about war Can a society have education that willfully avoids considering peace as its central objective Can a democracy exist if pivotal notions of war and peace are not understood practiced advocated and ensconced in public debate These questions according to Carr and Porfilio and the contributors they have assembled merit a critical and extensive reflection This book seeks to provide a range of epistemological policy pedagogical curriculum and institutional analyses aimed at facilitating meaningful engagement toward a more robust and critical examination of the role that schools play and can play in framing war militarization and armed conflict and significantly the connection to peace

Handbook of Online Learning Kjell Erik Rudestam, Judith Schoenholtz-Read, 2002-02-19 I found the book excellent and read every one of the 450 pages Many of the chapters reflect the Fielding Institute's focus on human and organizational behaviour educational leadership and organizational management The book will be particularly appropriate for readers from a corporate training or business school background though there is much for academics and online educators at all levels and subject areas to learn from this well crafted book There are many books and articles about online learning This is one of the better ones Robin Mason

Computers and Education Technology mediated instruction has taken the university and the corporate sector by storm As more instructors teach online for a dispersed learning community in both academic and business environments there's a need for resources that will help them adapt to this new teaching method Educators who come out of traditional academic institutions tend to use traditional methods when offering courses online e.g lectures textbooks and readings examinations rather than attend to small group processes and principles of what the editors of this volume call andragogy This Handbook goes beyond the mechanics of how to create and direct an online learning experience to consider such a new approach to pedagogy in doing so The editors primary purpose is to clarify the conceptual issues that underlie effective online teaching and to offer practical guidance to educators and corporate trainers who plan to teach in a virtual environment Their central tenet is the adoption of computer networks as the teaching vehicle of the future demands a re-examination of our core beliefs about pedagogy and how students learn The transfer of a classroom curriculum into cyberspace is deceptively simple but doing so without an appreciation of the nuances and implications of learning online ignores not only the potential of this medium but the inevitable realities of entering it Rather than fear the challenges that new technology brings to systems of learning the editors hope to help instructors embrace it by re-thinking how knowledge is acquired and how educational processes may be optimally designed in a new age of teaching and learning Features Benefits Part I provides an overview and includes discussion of the unique structural aspects of the electronic learning environment pedagogical issues curriculum design psychological and group dynamics and ethical issues Part II examines practical issues associated with implementing courses online both in the traditional university setting and in professional corporate training environments The book draws heavily on personal case examples many from The Fielding Graduate Institute s 26 years of teaching in nontraditional distributed learning environments
