Human Language Technology. Challenges of the Information Society Zygmunt Vetulani, Hans Uszkoreit, 2009-09-07 Half a century ago not many people had realized that a new epoch in the history of homo sapiens had just started The term Information Society Age seems an appropriate name for this epoch Communication was without a doubt a lever of the conquest of the human race over the rest of the animate world There is little doubt that the human race began when our predecessors started to communicate with each other using language This highly abstract means of communication was probably one of the major factors contributing to the evolutionary success of the human race within the animal world Physically weak and imperfect humans started to dominate the rest of the world through the creation of communication based societies where individuals communicated initially to satisfy immediate needs and then to create accumulate and process knowledge for future use The crucial step in the history of humanity was the invention of writing It is worth noting that writing is a human invention not a phenomenon resulting from natural evolution Humans invented writing as a technique for recording speech as well as for storing and facilitating the dissemination of knowledge across the world Humans continue to be born illiterate and therefore teaching and conscious supervised learning is necessary to maintain this basic social skill Spelling Across Orthographies Teresa Limpo, Naymé Salas, Marie Van Reybroeck, Sao Luis Castro, 2021-07-29 Developmental Orthography Philip Luelsdorff, 1991 Philip Luelsdorff's highly original approach to the grammar of orthography is to analyse in detail how German pupils learn about written English In this collection of essays and experiments we are presented with the rich finds of a decade of programmatic research The context is set with an exposition of current cognitive models of reading and spelling Cognitive psychology and psycholinguistics meet in Luelsdorff's concept of linguistic error This concept forms the basis from which it is possible to derive the grammar that governs our largely unconscious and vast knowledge of written words It is proper to talk about a grammar for both orthographic and syntactic aspects of language This is because spelling knowledge is not piecemeal or erratic but bears all the hallmarks of a system Through second language orthography the author is showing us a new view of this advanced stage of spelling knowledge and its acquisition This view is exciting because it seems now possible to form very detailed hypotheses as regards first language spelling about the order in which purely orthographic knowledge is developed
