The Australasian Insurance & Banking Record, 1880 The Compact Guide to Collecting Rare Australian Records Guy Webber, 1999 This booklet provides advice and information for those interested in collecting Australian made rare records Discusses what types of records are worth collecting and which are the most collectable labels Includes a list of the most collectable artists in Australia and major record collecting magazines Population Reconstruction Gerrit Bloothoof, Peter Christen, Kees Mandemakers, Marijn Schraagen, 2015-07-22 This book addresses the problems that are encountered and solutions that have been proposed when we aim to identify people and to reconstruct populations under conditions where information is scarce ambiguous fuzzy and sometimes erroneous The process from handwritten registers to a reconstructed digitized population consists of three major phases reflected in the three main sections of this book The first phase involves transcribing and digitizing the data while structuring the information in a meaningful and efficient way In the second phase records that refer to the same person or group of persons are identified by a process of linkage In the third and final phase the information on an individual is combined into a reconstruction of their life course The studies and examples in this book originate from a range of countries each with its own cultural and administrative characteristics and from medieval charters through historical censuses and vital registration to the modern issue of privacy preservation Despite the diverse places and times addressed they all share the study of fundamental issues when it comes to model reasoning for population reconstruction and the possibilities and limitations of information technology to support this process It is thus not a single discipline that is involved in such an endeavor Historians social scientists and linguists represent the humanities through their knowledge of the complexity of the past the limitations of sources and the possible interpretations of information The availability of big data from digitized archives and the need for complex analyses to identify individuals calls for the involvement of computer scientists With contributions from all these fields often in direct cooperation this book is at the heart of the digital humanities and will hopefully offer a source of inspiration for future investigations The Mining Magazine, 1950 Journal of the Society of Arts Royal Society of Arts (Great Britain), 1872 Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Royal Society for the Encouragement of Arts, Manufactures and Commerce, 1872 The Academy, 1892 The Athenaeum, 1853 Congressional Record United States.
