Environmental Studies Atiqur Rahman,Shouraseni Sen Roy,Swapan Talukdar,Shahfahad,2023-03-03 According to UN estimates approximately nearly half of the world s population now lives in cities and that figure is expected to rise to almost 70% by 2050 Cities now account for around 70% of worldwide greenhouse gas emissions and this percentage is predicted to rise in the near future as a result of projected increases in global urbanization patterns It is widely acknowledged that irrational urban planning and design can increase emissions while also exacerbating threats and risks resulting in a slew of environmental issues such as urban heat islands air pollution flooding amongst other issues as well as environmental social and economic losses Therefore these concerns must be addressed promptly in order to cope up with these rising difficulties and make urban environments safer for residents With the advancement of remote sensing technology and the use of current remote observation systems urban data science remote sensing and artificial intelligence AI modeling and quantifying emergent difficulties in urban regions and urban systems have become easy. They aid in the quantitative analysis of urban shape functions and human behavior in cities. Harvesting data, developing models and suggesting new methodologies will be aided by combining urban ecology with new breakthroughs in data science. Educational Leadership and Critical Realism Anthony Thorpe, Jean Pierre Elonga Mboyo, 2025-09-18. Adopting a critical realist approach to educational leadership, this book shows how applied theory can contribute to the development of mechanisms allowing for the effective leadership of organisations. Through an examination of pertinent theories and debates in educational leadership and critical realist thought, it moves to offer demonstrations of practical uses of critical realism that include the transformation of reflective practice, the development and practice of leadership and the formulation as well as the enactment of policy. Considering the role that realist thought can play in the resolution of educational crises in sub-Saharan Africa and bridging the gap between research and practice, the authors argue that change is possible and that it can be initiated from within the field of educational leadership. Centred on a vision of social justice for human flourishing instead of operating within narrow and mechanistic pre-occupations, Educational Leadership and Critical Realism will appeal to scholars across the social sciences as well as to practitioners and policymakers in the field of education.
