Annual Report of the Librarian of Congress for the Fiscal Year Ended ... Library of Congress, 2009 Library of Congress Information Bulletin, 2010 Writing about Lives in Science Paola Govoni, Zelda Alice Franceschi, 2014

Following discussions on scientific biography carried out over the past few decades this book proposes a kaleidoscopic survey of the uses of biography as a tool to understand science and its context The authors belong to a variety of academic and professional fields including the history of science anthropology literary studies and science journalism The period covered spans from 1732 when Laura Bassi was the first woman to get a tenured professorship of physics to 2009 when Elizabeth H Blackburn and Carol W Greider were the first women's team to have won a Nobel Prize in science Women, Politics, and the Irish Public Sphere in the Age of Revolution Catriona Kennedy, 2025-04-28

The late eighteenth century age of revolutions has long been identified as a key moment in the gendering of modern democratic politics one which opened up new debates on the rights of women while often re-affirming the masculinity of the political citizen In Ireland the revolutionary era saw the rise of the radical United Irish movement mass popular mobilisation and reached a violent denouement in the 1798 rebellion But what did Ireland's age of revolution mean for women Was radical republicanism able to imagine women as political actors How did Irish women experience and navigate the intense ideological conflicts of the 1790s Addressing these and related questions this is the first book length study of women and Irish politics in the late eighteenth century Revising a stubborn tendency to present women's political engagements in this period as largely mediated through men it stresses instead women's concerns initiatives and networks It reconstructs the distinctively gendered political cultures of Ireland's principal communities the dynastic politics of the Protestant elite the dynamic oppositional culture of Belfast Presbyterianism the urban and agrarian radicalism of unpropertied Catholics and asks how these shaped the meanings of the 1790s for women In looking beyond the homosocial spaces of the club pub lodge and corps it reveals a complexly gendered public sphere in which women were often active participants As the subjects of United Irish addresses religious sermons state surveillance and post rebellion commemoration women emerge as a clear if overlooked constituency in Ireland's age of revolution And it suggests how our understanding of revolution might change when viewed from the perspective of women Ibbetson Street #42 Ibbetson Street, 2017-12-25
