

Human computer interactions, HCI, is a study that shows us how people can interact with computers and to what extent the interactions between a computer and a person is successful. The main aim of HCI is to be user friendly and help everyday lives a lot easier without the need of specialised knowledge. HCI mainly impacts people with medical conditions such as speech and sight problems by making their standard living less difficult for them. Overall, HCI has a great impact on culture, society, economy and future developments. I will go into details to what extent this has an impact on all four.

Society:

There are many difficulties in society that many people face in their everyday lives. HCI can assist and aid people with their daily complications. There are a variety of human computer interactions that are being used today that are beneficial and supportive. HCI provides some specialised interfaces that help disabled people, these include, but are not limited to, speech and sight problems. An example of this is an eye gaze, this is a hands-free device that allows you to navigate your eyes to carry out tasks and communicate. This is advantageous to people with cerebral palsy and makes their everyday lives easier. This is reinforced with other hands-free devices such as a mouth stick which is a device that has a rubber mouth gear in one end and a point at the end which helps them also communicate.
