Imagine tomorrow that you packed everything you owned in a bag and just disappeared You forgot about your family a job taxes credit card bills traffic and all the other headaches of life You just split Not giving a single thought to where you were going or what you were going to do when you got there You lived completely by impulse Sounds good doesn't it Well what's stopping you That's exactly what Nello Di Latio would say Nello is twenty-two likes looking at himself in the mirror watching five movies in a row drinking Rum and Diet Cokes and living his life by a coin toss According to him life on the go gives him countless opportunities in just under a second and It's the 2nd second that really counts That's when you either go for it or you miss out forever Since he finished college the previous year this fast lane lifestyle has worked for him He's backpacked through Europe and the United States on about twenty bucks a day There's never a minute when I pause and reflect because I'm always moving he says I bet you can't wait to see where I'll be next Well neither can I The only thing that fascinates Nello more than living his life by impulse is his love of movies He sees his life as one giant movie with a Classic Rock soundtrack and him as the star But a movie has to have a point Nello slowly begins to realize that he can't float forever But where will a guy end up that follows women from bus stops and that allows fortune cookies and traffic signs to dictate his future This novel begins in on a deserted highway in Texas and ends in a hospital bathroom in New York City four days later During this time Nello learns that his traveling days are numbered What makes this novel intriguing is Nello's unusual journal entries that take him no more than two minutes Life's too short to waste time with bullshit details he says Through his passages we get to know him and his Gen X culture and mentality Aside from an occasional flash fantasy and a flashback the story is all present action The 2nd Second was written for anyone who ever got carried away with their imagination their passion for travel and experience and their own personal happiness Provider Benjamin Kroeske,2024-03-05

King,2017-03-07 In recent years scientific advances in our understanding of animal minds have led to major changes in how we think about and treat animals in zoos and aquariums The general public it seems is slowly coming to understand that animals like apes elephants and dolphins have not just brains but complicated inner and social lives and that we need to act accordingly Yet that realization hasn t yet made its presence felt to any great degree in our most intimate relationship with animals at the dinner table Sure there are vegetarians and vegans all over but at the same time meat consumption is up and meat remains a central part of the culinary and dining experience for the majority of people in the developed world With Personalities on the Plate Barbara King asks us to think hard about our meat eating and how we might reduce it But this isn t a polemic intended to convert readers to veganism What she is interested in is why we ve not drawn food animals into our concern and just what we do know about the minds and lives of chickens cows octopuses fish and more Rooted in the latest science and built on a mix of firsthand experience including entomophagy which yes is what you think it is and close engagement with the work of scientists farmers vets and chefs Personalities on the Plate is an unforgettable journey through the world of animals we eat Knowing what we know and what we may yet learn what is the proper ethical stance toward eating meat What are the consequences for the planet How can we live an ethically and ecologically sound life through our food choices We could have no better guide to these fascinatingly thorny questions than King whose deep empathy embraces human and animal alike Readers will be moved provoked and changed by this powerful book Refresh Kimberly M.
