✓ Exclusively available on IvyPanda

Description of Classroom Composition

The classroom observation was carried out in a kindergarten class of the Haring Center (located on the campus of University of Washington (Seattle, WA)). The classroom has an observation booth with a small window that enables researchers, educators or even parents observe the activities without attracting learners' attention. The classroom walls are covered with pictures, numbers, letters, and various objects, which creates a positive learning environment. There is a schedule on the board where all classes are listed. The classroom has several areas including students' and teachers' desks, closets for tools and a play area.

Types of Activities

During the observation, the children were engaged in several activities. The learners were divided into small groups (with a teacher in each group) during the larger part of the class. The activities included playing some toys, playing with plasticine, and listening to the teacher playing the guitar (in a playground outside the classroom). The learners played with cars and pet toys communicating with each other acting as the toy they had. Several girls were playing with plasticine making some objects while the teacher helped them use particular colors, make some shapes, use their rolling pins, and knives. The learners, who listened to the teacher playing the guitar, seemed very engaged as they listened very carefully (with smiles on their faces) though they did not dance or sing.

Types of Instructional Strategies

Coach modeling and cooperative learning were major instructional strategies used during the class. Teachers were sitting next to the learners engaging them in conversations through storytelling. They also managed to provide assistance and materials needed to complete tasks. The coach modeling strategy involved the teacher

A Practical Guide to Child Observation and Assessment Christine Hobart, Jill Frankel, 2004 Packed with examples of observation techniques skills and documented examples this text covers the child observation components of all major child care courses in particular CACHE CCE and DCE NVQ Level 2 and 3 as well as BTEC Observation, Assessment And Planning In The Early Years - Bringing It All Together Brodie, Kathy, 2013-04-01 Children develop and learn best when their environment is tailored to their individual needs supported through careful observation informed assessment and dynamic planning a cycle which is the bedrock of good early years practice Although the EYFS recommends that observation assessment and planning should be linked in a constant cyclical process in practice this can be a significant challenge This book presents an integrated framework which puts the cycle into practical terms bringing it all together to ensure a seamless process and to support you in this vital part of your work The focus is on the critical links within the cycle and combines theory with proven good practice including Making and recording observations effectively and efficiently How observations should inform next steps assessment and planning Bringing all the information together into a cyclical process Exploring potential challenges Using reflective practice to refine and improve your techniques Rich in practical examples and case studies that illustrate how the cyclical framework works in practice this is an excellent resource for early years practitioners and students looking to improve their observation assessment and planning techniques Observation Assessment and Planning in the Early Years Bringing it All Together actually does bring it all together Kathy Brodie has linked theorists from the past to the present skilfully connecting to the revised EYFS Early Years students and practitioners will have the opportunity to reflect on the innovative ideas that she has suggested Kathy has also included detailed information on observing SEN children This modern update to observation assessment and planning is a must read for the early years sector Laura Henry Managing Director Childcare Consultancy This is a very well researched and practical guide to observation planning and assessment in the Early Years Kathy has collected together both historical and current thinking and ideas around the subject and then presented them in a way that is easy for the reader to access understand and more importantly apply The structure and format of the book helps the reader to check their understanding of the key learning points and then supports them in working through any challenges that they may have along with answers to key questions Observation Planning and Assessment in the Early Years is an essential read for all Early Years Practitioners from those with experience to those just starting out Alistair Bryce Clegg Early Years Consultant This is a wonderful and timely resource to help practitioners make and use well informed judgements of young children s learning and achievement The four threads of observation assessment next steps and planning are skilfully woven together Plentiful exemplifications and case studies vividly illustrate theoretical points and give young children a central place in the book Marion Dowling Early Years Specialist and Vice President of Early Education Early Childhood Education Rebecca A. Vorsah, 2015-09-04 Positive thinking is the gateway to success This book helps to improve knowledge about mastery of one's own expectations, emotions and practical skills to use in real life situations. Early Childhood Education (ECE) or Early Years Education (EYE) promotes equality for children and creates opportunity for partnership working to improve quality and consistency for secure foundation and a better future for all. Parents do not forget this book is equally good for you. Marriage and its problems, including parenting, are treated in it. Short stories and poems are also included in it. In addition to the above data, it contains Early Childhood Education sample curriculum, trial past questions and past questions with answers. The past questions are based on Early Childhood Education at both the university and college levels. Early Childhood Education or Early Years Education is paramount to us, likewise students' success in their final exams. Calculated steps were taken to address issues related to children. Their rights were taken into consideration and their future prospects are very important to us in each country. The author wrote four books: General Knowledge of English Literature 2 for students and teachers; Early Childhood Education; and My Best Picture Book. In brief, the book covers everything in the curriculum: cognitive innovation, creativity, social, emotional, language, physical development, child assessment, improvement on existing practice, working with families, etc. With the help of this book, you can deal with all kinds of children, including the difficult ones, without feeling tired of handling them. The book contains a lot. You are invited to get copies of these books and recommend them to people: students, teachers, lecturers, managers, directors, practitioners at crche, nursery, primary, high schools, and parents. Many thanks for purchasing the books. Your service is highly appreciated.

How to Work with Standards in the Early Childhood Classroom Carol Seefeldt, 2005. More and more teachers of young children are being asked to develop their curriculum according to standards. This essential resource will guide educators as they grapple with a plethora of issues, questions and practices surrounding the use of standards in the early childhood classroom. Carol Seefeldt, well-known educator and bestselling author, offers teachers an overview of the standards movement, describes the status of standards in early education, presents the issues around the design and selection of standards, and provides practical strategies for effectively implementing standards with young children, preschool through the early primary grades. This book provides both the background knowledge and a working understanding of standards to help teachers successfully judge and select standards, design appropriate ways of using and working with standards, and develop appropriate assessment strategies. Illustrated with children's work, this book provides practical illustrations of how standards can be used to benefit early childhood classrooms, including many sample activities. It demonstrates how to work with standards in the separate subject areas of the sciences, arts, language and literacy, mathematics, and social studies, offers ideas for including all children, such as those with special needs and those just learning English, and describes a project, Children Study Their Play Yard, illustrating how thematic, standards-based problem-solving learning can be integrated into the total curriculum.

Project Zero Frameworks for Early Childhood Education: Project Spectrum : early learning activities Howard Gardner, David Henry Feldman, Mara Krechevsky, Jie-Qi Chen, 1998-11-13. The groundbreaking work of Harvard University psychologist Howard Gardner on multiple intelligences and Tufts University psychologist David Henry Feldman on nonuniversal development is fast becoming the standard by which children's intelligence and cognitive development is understood. In this landmark three volume set Mara Krechevsky and her colleagues at Project Zero make these insights available for both teachers and scholars alike. This curriculum resource provides enriching activities in a wide variety of disciplines including mechanics and construction movement and music.

Observing, Assessing and Planning for Children in the Early Years Sandra Smidt, 2005 Using theories and case studies this is an introductory text for all involved in the development of young children.

Observing Children in Their Natural Worlds Anthony D. Pellegrini, Frank Symons, John Hoch, 2014-04-08 This second edition updates the methods based on new technologies updates and increases the number of examples and reorganizes so the theoretical material is up front. The author's decisions were guided by having used the first edition in classes at two universities. Consequently he received feedback on the book from a variety of different perspectives from groups of very conscientious and competent students and from colleagues around the world who have used the book. By consensus the most popular aspect of the first edition was the organization of the book where the student researcher is guided through conceptualizing designing implementing and writing up the research project. This basic organization is the same as in the first edition however within this organizational frame things have changed. The discussion of the place of direct observational methods in relation to different qualitative and quantitative research traditions has been kept but expanded. Discussions of the use of direct observations in naturalistic settings drawing from research methods in ethology and ethnography and in more contrived settings drawing from experimental psychology are extended. Relatedly an extended discussion has been added on theories of science guiding different research assumptions. In addition sections of validity reliability and the ethics surrounding the research enterprise are also expanded. These constructs are not specific to observational methods but relevant to the general research process. In revised chapters in these areas the author provides grounding in the general concepts and then draws more specific focus to observational methods. The extended discussion of ethics is important since issues related to who gets authorship on papers how to complete Institutional Review Board forms and honesty in reporting findings are all issues that face both junior and senior researchers alike. Practical issues of writing research papers are expanded in this edition providing discussions of writing both review and empirical articles. Lastly a new and extensive chapter on using technology in direct observational methods has been added which reviews the available hardware and software in direct observational methods.

An Emergent Curriculum for the Early Years in Malta Charmaine Bonello, Anna Baldacchino, Carmen Dalli, 2024-12-31 This book charts the firsthand experiences and challenges faced by Maltese early childhood educators in the implementation of a novel approach to the curriculum the replacement of a prescriptive curricula with one co constructed by the educator and the child. Chapters provide seven contextualised inspiring narratives of how the emergent curriculum approach was implemented received and reflected upon within Maltese educational settings ranging from childcare 0 3 years kindergarten 3 5 years and early primary 5 7 years Packed with practical guidance along with on the ground commentary this volume showcases the pedagogical and professional transformation of these educators informing and encouraging reflection as well as inspiring others on a global scale Challenging the established modes and traditions of pedagogical best practice this book ultimately fills a gap in research on how educators in diverse local contexts and cultures can embrace the global concept of the emergent curriculum within their own practice and settings Providing pedagogical and professional insights for early years educators in similar contexts internationally the book will be of interest to researchers and early childhood educators as well as curriculum designers and policy makers interested in how the curriculum can take shape in different cultures and contexts
