Teaching by Design in Elementary Mathematics, Grades 2-3 Jennifer Stepanek, Melinda Leong, Linda Griffin, 2010-11-19
This professional learning programme for Key Stage 2 mathematics teaching is grounded in the latest research on the characteristics of effective professional development. The materials help teachers deepen their content knowledge for important mathematical concepts in their grade, increase their understanding of how students learn these mathematical ideas, use their knowledge to develop effective lessons and improve instruction, enhance their collaboration skills. The mathematical content of Teaching by Design in Mathematics matches content topics in number and operations identified for each grade by the NCTM Curriculum Focal Points. The culminating activity of the programme is the co-creation of a prototype lesson which is taught to students by team members; the team then investigates the impact of the lesson on student learning. The cycle of investigating, planning, teaching, observing, debriefing and revising a lesson together contributes to a climate of continuous professional learning.

Bel Marin Keys Unit 5, 1993 Science in Primary Schools: Examining the Practices of Effective Teachers Angela Fitzgerald, 2012-10-19
If the status and quality of science education in schools is to improve, efforts need to be made to better understand the classroom practices of effective science teachers. Teachers are key players in a re-imagining of science education. This book explores how two primary school teachers identified as effective practitioners approached science teaching and learning over a unit of work. In recording the teaching and learning experiences in their classrooms, the author highlights how the two teachers adopted different approaches, drawing on their particular beliefs and knowledge to support student learning in science in ways that were appropriate to their contexts as well as reflected their different experiences, strengths and backgrounds. Through sharing their stories, this book illustrates that due to the complex nature of teaching and learning, there is no one way of defining effectiveness. In documenting this research, it is hoped that other teachers and teacher educators will be inspired to think about primary school science education in innovative ways.
