Nqf Questions Papers Memorandum:

Race, Ethnicity, and Language Data Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Care Services, Subcommittee on Standardized Collection of Race/Ethnicity Data for Healthcare Quality Improvement, 2009-12-30 The goal of eliminating disparities in health care in the United States remains elusive Even as quality improves on specific measures disparities often persist Addressing these disparities must begin with the fundamental step of bringing the nature of the disparities and the groups at risk for those disparities to light by collecting health care quality information stratified by race ethnicity and language data Then attention can be focused on where interventions might be best applied and on planning and evaluating those efforts to inform the development of policy and the application of resources A lack of standardization of categories for race ethnicity and language data has been suggested as one obstacle to achieving more widespread collection and utilization of these data Race Ethnicity and Language Data identifies current models for collecting and coding race ethnicity and language data reviews challenges involved in obtaining these data and makes recommendations for a nationally standardized approach for use in health care quality improvement The Role of Vocational Education and Training in Promoting Lifelong Learning in Germany and England Alexandra Dehmel, 2005-05-16 Following the introduction the emergence of lifelong learning as the central strategy in the EU's education and training policy is described in Chapter Two Illustrated in a historical and international context it reveals where the idea of lifelong learning has come from and how it has developed up to the present day A particular focus is on EU policy after the mid 1990s as well as on the EU's concept of lifelong learning and its objectives Since lifelong learning is a complex concept the provision of a broad perspective on VET in Germany and England seems inevitable in order to examine how VET fosters lifelong learning Therefore Dehmel's concept of qualification styles which explicitly aims at providing a multidimensional approach that reveals the complexities and singularities of VET systems serves as the basis of Chapter Three to describe the main patterns of VET in Germany and England The focus lies on initial training though the whole system is taken into account Chapter Four explicitly builds on Chapter Three It examines the role of VET in promoting lifelong learning in Germany and England The six Key Messages of the EU's Memorandum on Lifelong Learning serve as the analytical framework for the investigation Chapter Five summarises the findings and draws conclusions It reveals that the approaches for promoting lifelong learning as well as the perceptions of lifelong learning differ These findings are embedded in the wider context of EU education and training policy The EU policy on lifelong learning is regarded critically and attention is drawn to further research questions Appendices provide additional information to illustrate specific aspects of some of the issues in the main text in greater detail Global Inventory of National and Regional Qualifications Frameworks 2022 European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training, European Training Foundation, UNESCO, UNESCO Institute for Lifelong Learning, 2023-12-31 The Vocational Assessor Handbook Ian Greer, 2025-07-03 The Vocational Assessor Handbook is the only comprehensive guide for assessors and

Recognition of Prior Learning Per Andersson, Andreas Fejes, Fredrik Sandberg, 2017-10-02 Recognition of prior learning RPL has emerged in recent decades as an important policy area and policy concept It is a phenomenon with a certain variation in practices as well as contexts concepts and conceptions However there is a basic idea about giving recognition to prior learning wherever and whenever learning has taken place Such ideas can be materialised in formal assessment systems providing the basis for recognition as well as in informal processes where prior learning is made visible and gets recognition This book provides a range of empirically and theoretically based contributions from different parts of the world where RPL or an equivalent is mobilised as part of educational practices for adults Discussion in this area often takes place locally This volume compiles different kinds of contributions to create a broader dialogue among scholars and practitioners not only on the specific topic of RPL but also on more general issues faced in educational research It was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Lifelong Education SQA Specimen Paper 2013
