

Summary of NRP™ 6th Edition Materials

The American Academy of Pediatrics 6th Edition NRP materials represent a major shift in the approach to the NRP educational methodology and course structure. The focus of the NRP 6th Edition has changed from a slide and lecture format to a flexible agenda that includes self-study of the textbook and a required online examination prior to the NRP course. Classroom time will focus on hands-on skills training, simulation-based learning, and debriefing exercises with the neonatal resuscitation team.

Textbook of Neonatal Resuscitation & DVD, 6th Edition

The repertoire of new materials includes a completely revised Textbook of Neonatal Resuscitation & DVD. The NRP 6th Edition textbook incorporates the 2010 American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) and American Heart Association's (AHA) Guidelines for Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation and Emergency Cardiovascular Care.

The 2010 guidelines were developed by the NRP Steering Committee based on the Consensus on Science and Treatment Recommendations (CoSTR) of the International Liaison Committee on Resuscitation (ILCOR) Neonatal Delegation. The new guidelines were published in Pediatrics last October and are included as a reprint in the 6th Edition textbook. For more information about the 2010 AAP/AHA Guidelines, refer to the article that appeared in the Fall/Winter 2010 edition of NRP Instructor Update. The complete Guidelines can be accessed at <http://pediatrics.aappublications.org/cgi/reprint/pech.2010-2922cy>.

The revised textbook has nine chapters, each with new content updates that are also incorporated into the accompanying interactive multimedia textbook DVD. The NRP Flow Diagram has changed in a variety of ways. Primarily, the information flow has been simplified, with a greater focus on assuring positive-pressure ventilation before starting chest compressions.

"THE MOST SIGNIFICANT CONTENT UPDATES INCLUDE THE APPLICATION OF PULSE OXIMETRY TO GUIDE THE USE OF SUPPLEMENTAL OXYGEN DURING NEONATAL RESUSCITATION."

"One of the most significant content updates is the application of pulse oximetry to guide the use of supplemental oxygen during neonatal resuscitation. This topic is covered in detail in Lessons 1-3 in the textbook and probably represents the biggest change in the NRP 6th Edition," explained John Kattwinkel, MD, FAAP, editor of the Textbook of Neonatal Resuscitation, 4th and 5th Editions as well as the 6th edition.

"In the 5th Edition, we recommended the use of 100% oxygen during resuscitation because sufficient evidence to the contrary wasn't available at the time," said Dr. Kattwinkel, Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville. "However, based on the latest scientific evidence, we now know that increasing a newborn's oxygen level as fast as possible with 100% supplemental oxygen is probably not the best approach. If we increase the oxygen level too fast, it may cause tissue injury. The latest science tells us we should be very careful of that."

Guideline recommendations encourage having pulse oximeters and blended oxygen available in delivery areas and pulse oximetry is highly recommended for use whenever supplemental oxygen, positive-pressure ventilation, or continuous positive airway pressure (CPAP) are considered necessary.

Disorders of the Neonatal Airway Janet Liroy,Steven E. Sobol,2015-01-07 Disorders of the Neonatal Airway serves as a comprehensive multidisciplinary resource for all practitioners who care for neonates with airway disorders With the evolution of advances in neonatology and neonatal airway care over the past three decades the survival rate and life expectancy of premature newborns have dramatically increased to well over 50% in 24-25 week gestation infants. Unfortunately survival with long term intubation has brought a corresponding increase in acquired airway disorders needing collaborative high level neonatal and otolaryngological care. Additionally with the advent of fetal therapy congenital airway disorders now make up a substantial number of neonates with complex airway disorders. Because of this fact there has been increased focus on the multidisciplinary evaluation and management of neonatal airway disorders. The book is organized into three sections: the first focuses on Malformations and Deformations, the second focuses on Assessment, Evaluation and Treatment, and the third discusses Education, Simulation and Quality. As one of the only comprehensive resources on the topic, Disorders of the Neonatal Airway focuses on a multidisciplinary approach to the neonatal airway. This unique approach makes this reference a must read for practitioners from many disciplines. Neonatal Airway Management Lindsay C. Johnston,Taylor Sawyer,2025-01-24 Intubation is one of the most performed procedures in neonatal medicine The field of neonatal airway management has been transformed by many notable developments over the past 5 10 years Most importantly the use of pre medication video laryngoscopy and laryngeal masks have been the subject of numerous recent clinical investigations and academic publications. Despite ongoing research, neonatal airway management continues to carry a high risk of complications and both short and long term morbidities. A comprehensive book on neonatal airway management has never been published. Hence the proposed book fills an important niche in the healthcare literature. This book provides a comprehensive state of the art review of neonatal airway management and serves as a valuable resource for clinicians, educators and researchers involved in neonatal care. The book reviews patient, practice, provider and system factors important in neonatal airway management. Chapters explore key topic areas including airway management techniques, training, competency assessment, premedication, video laryngoscopy, laryngeal mask airway and others. Written by experts in the field and including the most up to date scientific and clinical information, Neonatal Airway Management serves as a useful resource for physicians and researchers dealing with and interested in neonatal airway management. It provides a concise yet comprehensive summary of the current state of the field that helps guide patient management and stimulates investigative efforts.
