lead conversations with such communities about problems arising from prejudice Contemporary police are expected to be active agents in the pursuit of social justice and human rights by stamping out prejudice and group based animosity At the same time police have been criticised in over policing targeted communities as potential perpetrators as well as under policing these same communities as victims of crime Despite this history the demand for impartial law enforcement requires police to change their engagement with targeted communities and kindle trust as priorities in strengthening their response to hate crime Drawing upon a research partnership between police and academics this book entwines current law enforcement responses with key debates on the meaning of hate crime to explore the potential for misunderstandings of hate crime between police and communities and illuminates ways to overcome communication difficulties This book will be important reading for students taking courses in hate crime as well as victimology policing and crime and community

Drug Enforcement United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary,1990 European Journal of Policing Studies ,2018-07-31 Contents Introduction Antoinette Verhage Lieselot Bisschop and Wim Hardyns br Articles How to Police a Porous Fortress Monica den Boer 1 Abstract The purpose of this article is to provide an overview of the way in which the European Union has gradually but steadily built a security architecture based on the control of mobility and borders Different logics of policing are interwoven in several projects which are strongly interdependent with technological innovation Furthermore the European policing of mobility is primarily performed by mounting surveillance both inside and beyond European borders by means of which all forms of movement transactions travelling etc are subjected to intensive monitoring by multiple actors who are interlinked through strategies and systems The main finding is that border policing is shifting in a fundamental way from fixed to fluid from territorial to virtual and from physical to technological Hence paradoxically though mobility is strongly promoted as one of the main virtues of the European Union Europe s precautionary protection may be at ill ease with the free movement of people The article seeks to stimulate the knowledge and debate about deeper shifts in Europe s security apparatus and develops this from a law enforcement perspective Keywords Europe borders security mobility technology 1 Academic Dean at the Police Academy of The Netherlands Member of the Committee on European Integration of the Advisory Council on International Affairs and Visiting Professor at the College of Europe in Bruges Police Science in Germany History and New Perspectives Joachim Kersten 1 and Ansgar Burchard 2 Abstract In the German speaking academic world Police Science Polizeiwissenschaft is a fairly new and little known area of social science Accordingly the academic status of police science is anything but firmly established but rather at a hybrid stage of development The very combination of policing and academic study research seems to remain largely incompatible not only to police managers but also to main stream sociology German police science differs substantially from the Anglo American Australian approach One main difference pertains to legal traditions others are due to historical and cultural developments that will be taken up in this descriptive essay However Anglo American Australian police theories have a lot to offer to

German and European police scientists and this will be demonstrated For a future common approach to an evolving European police science similar descriptions will be required from other European countries to establish a comparative foundation of joint EU police studies Some of the principal dimensions of such a comparison will be sketched in this essay It concludes with a presentation of empirically based police studies carried out by instructors and Master students at the newly founded German Police University in Münster Topics are media coverage of clashes between police and demonstrators a typology of third party intervention in cases of assault in public places and COREPOL EU FP7 a comparative security research project aiming at an improvement of police minority relations through means of restorative justice programs

Fear of Crime Murray Lee, Stephen Farrall, 2008-07-03 An attention to the fear of crime has found its way into governmental interventions in crime prevention and into popular discourse with many newspapers local government and the like conducting their own fear of crime surveys As a concept fear of crime has also produced considerable academic debate since it entered the criminological vocabulary in the 1960s Bringing together a collection of new and cutting edge articles from key scholars in criminology Fear of Crime challenges many assumptions which remain submerged in attempts to measure and attribute cause to crime fear But in questioning the orthodoxy of fear of crime models along with inquiries that have supposed that fear is objectively quantifiable and measurable the articles collected here also offer new paradigms and methods of inquiry for approaching fear of crime

Policing Non-Citizens Leanne Weber, 2013-09-11 Criminologists are increasingly turning their attention to the many points of intersection between immigration and crime control This book discusses the detection of unlawful non citizens as a distinct form of policing which is impacting on a growing range of agencies and sections of society It constitutes an important contribution not only to the literature on policing but also to the field of border control studies within criminology Drawing on the work of Clifford Shearing Ian Loader and P A J Waddington it offers new theoretical approaches to the study of police powers and practice

Criminal Justice and Political Cultures Tim Newburn, Richard Sparks, 2012-12-06 As crime increasingly crosses national boundaries and international co operation takes firmer shape so the development of ideas and policy on the control of crime has become an increasingly international and transnational affair These developments call attention not just to the many points of convergence in the languages and practices of crime control but also to their persistent differences This book is concerned both with the very specific issue of policy transfer within the crime control arena and with the issues raised by a more broadly conceptualized idea of comparative policy analysis The contributions in the book examine the different ways in which ostensibly similar vocabularies policies and practices are taken up and applied in the distinct settings they encounter

New South Wales Year Book, 2003      Unsettling Colonial Automobilities Thalia Anthony, Juanita Sherwood, Harry Blagg, Kieran Tranter, 2023-12-14 Exploring the vehicle's role in imposing colonialism on Indigenous people this book proposes an Indigenous automobility that reclaims sovereignty over place and centrality      APAIS 1999: Australian public affairs information service ,      Criminal Justice Ethics Sharon Hayes, 2015-03-02 It is essential for those employed within the justice system to be able to competently and confidently work at the borders between ethics and the law Criminal Justice Ethics offers a fresh new approach to considering ethical issues in a criminal justice context Rather than simply offering a range of ethical dilemmas specific to various justice professionals it provides extensive discussion of how individuals develop their moral imaginations using ethical perspectives and practices both as citizens of the world and as practitioners of justice Starting from a consideration of the major ethical theories this book sets the framework for an expansive discussion of ethics by moving from theory to consider the just society and the role of the justice professional within it Each chapter provides detailed analysis of relevant ethical issues and activities to engage students with the content as well as review questions which can be used for revision or examination This book will help students to understand the various theoretical approaches to ethics apply these understandings to issues in society and the justice process assist in developing the ability to investigate discuss and analyse current ethical issues in criminal justice appreciate the diverse nature of ethical systems across cultures outline strategies for detecting and resolving ethical dilemmas Rich with examples and ethical dilemmas from a broad range of contexts this book's multicultural approach will appeal not only to criminal justice educators but also to academics students and practitioners approaching criminal justice from sociological psychological or philosophical perspectives

Sexual Violence in Australia, 1970s-1980s Lisa Featherstone, 2021-07-28 This book explores sexual violence and crime in Australia in the 1970s and 1980s a period of intense social and legal change Driven by the sexual revolutions second wave feminism and ideas of the rights of the child there was a new public interest in the sexual assault of women and children Sexual abuse was studied surveyed and discussed more than ever before in Australian society Yet despite this there remained substantial inaction by government from community and on the part of individuals This book examines several difficult questions of our recent history why did Australia not act more firmly to eradicate rape and child sexual abuse What prevented our culture from looking seriously at trauma How did we fail to protect victim survivors Rich in social and legal history this study takes readers into the world of victims of sexual crime and into the wider community that had to deal with sexual violence At the core of this book is the question that resonates deeply right now why does sexual violence appear seemingly insurmountable despite significant change
