The Emerald Handbook of Sustainable Energy Transition and Social Justice Julius Omokhudu Irene, Bridget Nneka Irene, Kingsley Obi Omeihe, Regina Frank, 2025-09-08 The Emerald Handbook of Sustainable Energy Transition fosters a more profound understanding of research and discourse on sustainability across the Global South deconstructs the current thinking Fundamentals of Entrepreneurial Finance Marco Da Rin, Thomas Hellmann, 2020 Entrepreneurial finance brings together the fast moving world of entrepreneurship with the disciplined world of finance Fundamentals of Entrepreneurial Finance provides an accessible yet rigorous framework for understanding how ambitious high growth start ups can successfully obtain funding and interact with investors The Rhetoric of Diversion in English Literature and Culture, 1690-1760 Darryl P. Domingo, 2016-03-29 A study of how literature of the early eighteenth century represented a newly fashionable life of amusement and diversion Chapters explore a range of diversionary preoccupations and argue that the devices of digressive wit adopt similar forms and fulfil similar functions in literature as do diversions in eighteenth century culture Handbook on Green Growth Roger Fouquet, 2019 Economies around the world have arrived at a critical juncture to continue to grow fuelled by fossil fuels and exacerbate climate change or to move towards more sustainable greener growth Choosing the latter is shown to help address climate change as well as present new economic opportunities This Handbook provides a deeper understanding of the concept of green growth and highlights key lessons from the experience of green transformations across the world following a decade of ambitious stimulus packages and green reforms

Facsimile Siân Echard, 2025-10-14 An unprecedented cultural history of reproductions of medieval manuscripts Facsimiles are or claim to be exact copies of objects and medieval manuscripts have long been a focus for this kind of reproduction Today digitization delivers complete high resolution full color digital copies of thousands of medieval manuscripts to anyone with an internet connection But for centuries scholars in fields like art history or paleography or textual editing had to travel to see the manuscripts their work depended on When they couldn't they relied on copies drawings engravings lithographs and eventually monochrome photographs usually of parts of a manuscript rather than the whole thing Facsimile explores the prehistory of our digital present focusing on the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries a period that witnessed rapid technological change a renewal of interest in the Middle Ages in the public at large the consolidation and emergence of scholarly disciplines and the increase in institutions that cared for medieval manuscripts Siân Echard shows how facsimiles of medieval manuscripts were central to all these developments Focusing on Britain Echard traces how predigital technologies of reproduction were viewed by their practitioners and consumers and how they helped to form the ways people related to the medieval past Facsimile users were scholarly and popular with interests in text or image or books or all these things at once Four chapters Letter Figure Color Catastrophe show how the human hand the human eye and the human imagination intertwined with technology creating modern medieval hybrids that sit at the intersection of past and present From the rise of paleography and diplomatics as disciplines to the emergence of calligraphy as a craft and hobby from the use of facsimiles in shaping narratives of national identity to the substitution of facsimiles for destroyed or damaged manuscripts in the development of preservation practices Facsimile offers an unprecedented cultural history of reproductions of medieval manuscripts

Chain Reactions Lucy Jane Santos, 2024-11-05 Tracing uranium's past and how it intersects with our understanding of other radioactive elements Chain Reactions aims to enlighten readers and refresh our attitudes about the atomic world Chain Reactions looks at the fascinating often forgotten stories that can be found throughout the history of uranium From glassworks to penny stocks from medicines to atomic weapons from something to be feared to a powerful source of energy this global history explores the scientific narrative of this unique element but also shines a light on its cultural and social impact By understanding our nuclear past we can move beyond the ideological opposition to technologies and encourage a more nuanced dialogue about whether it is feasible and desirable to have a genuinely nuclear powered future

Heritage Under Pressure - Threats and Solution Michael Dawson, Edward James, Mike Nevell, 2019-09-20 Heritage under Pressure examines the relationship between the political perspective of the UK government on soft power and the globalising effect of projects carried out by archaeologists and heritage professionals working in the historic environment It exemplifies the nature of professional engagement and the role of the profession in working towards a theory of practice based on the integrity of data the recovery and communication of information and the application of data in real world situations Individual papers raise complex and challenging issues such as commemoration identity and political intervention A further aim of the volume is to illustrate the role of professionals adhering to standards forged in the UK in the context of world heritage under pressure Papers also contribute to the emerging agenda developing as a result of the re orientation of the UK following the Brexit vote at once emphasising the global aspiration of the UK's professional archaeological body the Chartered Institute for Archaeologists in relation to the global reach of UK academic practice By implication the volume also addresses the relationship between professional practice and academic endeavour The volume as a whole contributes to the emerging debate on the authorised heritage discourse and provides an agenda for the future of the profession

Contested Valor Cameron D. McCoy, 2023-11-16 Contested Valor is a challenging examination of the use and status of black Marines in United States military service during the Cold War era These pioneering men experienced contested military integration as well as multiple forms of institutional and social opposition which called their humanity manhood and rights to full citizenship into question Efforts to undermine their service compromised their right to be counted among the elite and sidelined their story to the fringes of Marine Corps and US history Cameron McCoy describes the factors and pressures leading to the racial turbulence that surfaced in the Marine Corps from the end of World War II through Vietnam and the measures taken by civilian and Marine officials to maintain and restore organizational integrity based on a foundation of white supremacy He examines the psychological effects of institutionalized racism on

African American Marines during the Vietnam era and the emergence of a new generation of black men unwilling to submit to the traditions of a Jim Crow Marine Corps By exploring the realities American society constructed about black Marines this work calls attention to the diverse ways in which these men coped within a strict prejudiced organization and found greater purpose as U S Marines despite an embattled image Contested Valor weaves the experiences of black Americans in the armed forces into the larger tapestry of the American racist past and aptly captures the dilemmas triumphs and pitfalls that the first African American Marines encountered during the contentious eras of World War II Korea and Vietnam McCoy explores the creation of organizational policies designed to minimize their footprint as U S Marines until the social experiment of military integration faded and illustrates the discriminatory practices that further delegitimized their wartime reputation McCoy demonstrates that black Marines absence from the historical record has been compounded by the negligence and oversight of past historians as the Marine Corps reckons with its racist past and its first black Marines
