Protecting the Promise Timothy San Pedro, 2021 Protecting the Promise is the first book in the Culturally Sustaining Pedagogies Series edited by Django Paris It features a collection of short stories told in collaboration with five Native families that speak to the everyday aspects of Indigenous educational resurgence rooted in the intergenerational learning that occurs between mothers and their children The author defines resurgence as the ongoing actions that recenter Indigenous realities and knowledges while simultaneously denouncing and healing from the damaging effects of settler colonial systems By illuminating the potential of such educational resurgence the book counters deficit paradigms too often placed on Indigenous communities It also demonstrates the need to include Indigenous Knowledges within the curriculum for both in school and out of school settings These engaging narratives reframe Indigenous parents as critical and compassionate educators cultural brokers and storytellers who are central partners in the education of their children Book Features A window into how and why Indigenous resurgence through and sometimes in resistance to education can happen A narrative style of writing that builds accessible stories that are both relatable and connected to larger social issues An interdisciplinary approach that has implications for pre and in service teachers and school administrators as well as for the communities from which these stories originated A teacher friendly Afterword that offers lesson ideas for the classroom and companion questions to the short stories
