Turkish immigration, art and narratives of home in France Annedith Schneider, 2016-07-15 Turkish immigration art and narratives of home in France argues for a cultural rather than a sociological or economic approach to understanding how immigrants become part of their new country In contrast to the language of integration or assimilation which evaluates an immigrant s success in relation to a static endpoint e g integrated or not settling is a more useful metaphor Immigrants and their descendants are not definitively settled but rather engage in an ongoing process of adaptation In order to understand this process of settling it is important to pay particular attention to immigrants not only as consumers but also as producers of culture since artistic production provides a unique and nuanced perspective on immigrants sense of home and belonging especially within the multi generational process of settling In order to anchor these larger theoretical questions in actual experience this book looks at music theatre and literature by artists of Turkish immigrant origin in France Professeurs et élèves Jean Houssaye, 2001 L ouvrage de Jean Houssaye se propose d examiner les notions de bons et mauvais l ves et de bons et mauvais professeurs A la lumi re de plusieurs approches psychologique sociologique et p dagogique et en s appuyant sur de nombreux faits concrets il montre comment se fabriquent les bons et les mauvais aussi bien chez les l ves que chez les professeurs Index-catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon General's Office, United States Army (Army Medical

Authors and Subjects Army Medical Library (U.S.),1955 Psychologie Du Risque ,2007 L'identification, l'évaluation et la gestion des risques professionnels, sportifs, routiers ou des risques pour l'environnement pour la santé et la sécurité des populations est aujourd'hui plus que jamais au centre des préoccupations. Les mesures techniques et organisationnelles sont appliquées avec plus ou moins de succès dans bon nombre de cas. Il subsiste toutefois un nombre important de situations accidentelles ou dangereuses dans lesquelles l'imbrication des comportements et des représentations semble prendre une part prépondérante. Les représentations et plus particulièrement la perception des risques interviennent tous niveaux de leur gestion. Le but de cet ouvrage est de faire connaître dans le monde francophone les travaux en psychologie qui ont été menés dans le domaine. Il propose la fois des méthodologies de recherche, des exemples de recherche, des résultats très divers et riches, des modèles d'approche comportementales en matière de santé et de sécurité, des techniques de changement de comportement ou d'adoption des comportements sains, ainsi que des idées pour influencer positivement les campagnes de sécurité en partant de la logique des personnes auxquelles elles s'adressent. Vingt mille lieux sous les terres
Florinel Radu, 2004-01-01. De mémoire d'homme, aucune époque avant la nôtre n'a connu un tel développement de l'espace public souterrain. Avec le renchérissement et la rarefaction des terrains en situation urbaine, le volume enterré construit devient peu à peu comparable à celui qui émerge. Les architectes sont donc de plus en plus confrontés au défi de la construction souterraine. Longtemps délaiguée aux seuls ingénieurs et à l'aspect contre-nature du séjour sous terre, ainsi que l'impact de ces interventions sur la ville, exigent d'eux des compétences particulières. L'originalité de cet ouvrage est de cerner la problématique en abordant les questions pertinentes pour valoriser l'architecture en milieu souterrain et pour développer des stratégies de projet capables de transformer ces espaces hostiles en lieux accueillants. Cet ouvrage transdisciplinaire s'adresse aussi bien aux commanditaires qu'aux architectes, urbanistes et ingénieurs. Il s'intéresse notamment aux précédents historiques, aux aspects liés à la forte demande actuelle au comportement humain en souterrain et aux défis architecturaux et techniques, soit une mise en relation exhaustive des multiples aspects que revêt le projet souterrain.
