Psychology As A Human Science A Phenomenologically Based Approach:

Psychology as a Human Science Amedeo Giorgi, 2020-06-14 Psychology as a Human Science A Phenomenologically Based Approach is a classic text in the field of psychology that is as relevant today as it was when it was first published in 1970 Giorgi's text helped establish the philosophical foundation humanistic psychology and the human science approach He provides an important critique of traditional methods in psychology while providing his alternative This new version includes a new introduction by Giorgi along with a new Foreword by Rodger Broom Methodology for the Human Sciences Donald E. Polkinghorne, 1984-06-30 Methodology for the Human Sciences addresses the growing need for a comprehensive textbook that surveys the emerging body of literature on human science research and clearly describes procedures and methods for carrying out new research strategies It provides an overview of developing methods describes their commonalities and variations and contains practical information on how to implement strategies in the field In it Donald Polkinghorne calls for a renewal of debate over which methods are appropriate for the study of human beings proposing that the results of the extensive changes in the philosophy of science since 1960 call for a reexamination of the original issues of this debate The book traces the history of the deliberations from Mill and Dilthey to Hempel and logical positivism examines recently developed systems of inquiry and their importance for the human sciences and relates these systems to the practical problems of doing research on topics related to human experience It discusses historical realism systems and structures phenomenology and hermeneutics action theory and the implications recent systems have for a revised human science methodology Qualitative Inquiry Rosemarie Rizzo Parse, National League for Nursing, 2001 Presents qualitative research methods for systematically studying human experiences Parse Loyola University describes the conceptual ethical and interpretive dimensions of qualitative research and provides the ontology epistemology and methodology for several approaches Example research study A Psychological Approach to Ethical Reality K. Hillner, 2000-11-16 The pre eminent 19th century British ethicist Henry Sidgwick once said All important ethical notions are also psychological except perhaps the fundamental antitheses of good and bad and wrong with which psychology as it treats of what is and not of what ought to be is not directly concerned quoted in T N Tice and T P Slavens 1983 Sidgwick's statement can be interpreted to mean that psychology is relevant for ethics or that psychological knowledge contributes to the construction of an ethical reality This interpretation serves as the basic impetus to this book but Sidgwick's statement is also analyzed in detail to demonstrate why a current exposition on the relevance of psychology for ethical reality is necessary and germane The Blackwell Guide to the Philosophy of the Social Sciences Stephen P. Turner, Paul A. Roth, 2008-04-15 The Blackwell Guide to the Philosophy of the Social Sciences collects newly commissioned essays that examine fundamental issues in the social sciences

Qualitative Research in Midwifery and Childbirth Gill Thomson, Fiona Dykes, Soo Downe, 2012-03-29 Qualitative Research in Midwifery and Childbirth brings together a range of phenomenological methods and insights into one accessible text

Illustrated with plenty of examples of successful phenomenological research it keeps the focus applied to midwifery and childbirth and makes clear the links to practice throughout Phenomenology and Human Science Research Today Massimiliano Tarozzi, 2010 Five Ways of Doing Qualitative Analysis Frederick J. Wertz, Kathy Charmaz, Linda M. McMullen, Ruthellen Josselson, Rosemarie Anderson, Emalinda McSpadden, 2011-06-17 This unique text provides a broad introduction to qualitative analysis together with concrete demonstrations and comparisons of five major approaches Leading scholars apply their respective analytic lenses to a narrative account and interview featuring Teresa a young opera singer who experienced a career changing illness The resulting analyses vividly exemplify what each approach looks like in action The researchers then probe the similarities and differences among their approaches their distinctive purposes and strengths the role style and subjectivity of the individual researcher and the scientific and ethical complexities of conducting qualitative research Also included are the research participant s responses to each analysis of her experience A narrative account from another research participant Gail can be used by readers to practice the kinds of analysis explored in the book The Sphere of Attention P. Sven Arvidson, 2006-02-22 The phone call came mid afternoon in February of 1996 The program chair for the annual meeting for the Southern Society of Philosophy and Psychology wanted to make sure he had the facts right This is somewhat unusual he began You re a philosophy professor who wants to present to psychologists in the psychology portion of the meeting That s right Well your paper was accepted for that part of the program but the others just wanted me to check and make sure that s where you want to be presenting That s right Reassured the professor wished me luck and said good bye In my session at the meeting I was the last to present As my time approached the medium sized room slowly became crowded I dreamed that these psychologists had left their other meetings early to make sure to catch my presentation on the use of metaphors in attention research As I arose to present I noticed that the half full room had become standing room only Finally after years of feeling as if I was struggling alone in promoting and defending a phenomenology of attention I had an eager audience for my message My persistence had paid off I delivered my message with passion

Models of Man J.J. Dagenais, 2012-12-06 This essay is first a theoretical and historical study of some classical scientific ways of studying human being in the world The more readily accessible and more commonly discussed models of being human were chosen for review here but structuralism is included because I believe it will have the same impact in America as it has had in France and I hope that American readers might be forewarned about what may be ideologically at stake before the technical and fruitful aspects of the movement become an academic fad in the United States The subjects included are mainline experimental psychology from Wundt to Skinner with its relatively shortlived functionalist and Watsonian behaviorist formulations holistic psychology from Brentano through Stumpf Husserl and Goldstein to Maslow Rogers and contemporary third force psychology and the psychoanalytic model for which the only paradigm is Freud himself Preeminence is given to psychological paradigms since their subject matter lies closest to the classical philosophical tradition from which philosophical anthropology emerged This book is in the final analysis a prolegomenon to an articulated philosophical anthropology Sociological models are also considered the classical tradition from Comte to the present and Marxist anthropology from the manuscripts of 1844 to the present The structuralist model from Durkheim to Chomsky is also considered since it cuts across and gives new dimensions to all the foregoing models The essay is second a phenomenological critique of these historico theoretical considerations

Phenomenology 2005. Volume 1: Selected Essays from Asia, part 2 Cheung, Chan-fai,Yu, Chung-Chi,2007-01-01

From Child to Elder Alan Pope,2006 From Child to Elder explores the personal growth that can arise when a middle aged adult loses his or her last living parent Based on an empirical phenomenological study this book details the complex ways in which the adult orphan s ongoing relationship to the deceased parents combined with the unique meanings of the loss leads to a deepening of individual autonomy and spiritual awakening Confrontation with mortality and fundamental aloneness promotes among other things an increased sense of existential responsibility toward self and others as the adult orphan psychologically assumes its new role as an elder These and many other themes are structured into an integrated whole and amplified through developmental existential and Jungian perspectives The result is a compelling portrait of the processes by which the death of one s parents can accelerate psychospiritual development

Neurophenomenology and Its Applications to Psychology Susan Gordon,2013-06-12 This book explores the meaning and import of neurophenomenology and the philosophy of enactive or embodied cognition for psychology It introduces the psychologist to an experiential non reductive holistic theoretical and practical framework that integrates the approaches of natural and human science to consciousness In integrating phenomenology with cognitive science neurophenomenology provides a bridge between the natural and human sciences that opens an interdisciplinary dialogue on the nature of awareness the ontological primacy of experience the perception of the observer and the mind brain relationship which will shape the future of psychological theory research and practice

Re-envisioning Theoretical Psychology Thomas Teo,2019-05-29 This volume presents a re envisioning of the field of theoretical psychology and offers unique visions for its present and future from leaders of North American philosophical psychology It contends that theoretical psychology has reached middle age and must consider new directions to renew its growth Rooted in a range of research traditions and the intellectual biographies of its authors it paves the way toward this necessary revitalization of the content activities responsibilities and hopes of theoretical psychology The authors situate their analyses in the context of the increasing gap between alternative and mainstream and between the discipline and the profession of psychology They demonstrate that changes in society culture and technology the internationalization of the psychological humanities and the cross fertilization of intellectual innovations from other disciplines now afford possibilities for new orientations in theoretical psychology The volume aims to do justice to psychological topics human beings and the intellectual problems that psychologists encounter while also providing space for meta theoretical engagement often neglected in the discipline

Together the chapters in this collection make the case that a renewal of the discipline and practice of psychology is a task that is best accomplished collectively and despite significant disagreements in solidarity Values in Psychological Science Lisa Osbeck, 2019 Science values and persons Observing Imaginative sense making Perspective taking The Soul in Soulless Psychology Robert Kugelmann, 2023-02-16 Modern psychology began with a rejection of the soul as relevant for the science How did that come about The Soul in Soulless Psychology explores that question and details arguments for a soulless psychology However there was also opposition to this notion This alternative history of psychology examines those who dissented from a psychology without a soul including Neoscholastic psychologists and others such as Ladd M nsterberg and McDougall Substitutions for the soul such as self personality and the brain show that even with the soul absent its concerns were present Innovative re thinkings of the soul are addressed as well as attempts at restoration of the soul into psychology Moreover historical psychologies of the soul kept the soul in view In the twenty first century we find soul as a noun an adjective and a verb all pointing to the necessity of the soul for psychology Phenomenological Perspectives on Place, Lifeworlds, and Lived Emplacement David Seamon, 2023-03-17 Phenomenological Perspectives on Place Lifeworlds and Lived Emplacement is a compilation of seventeen previously published articles and chapters by David Seamon one of the foremost researchers in environmental architectural and place phenomenology These entries discuss such topics as body subject the lived body place ballets environmental serendipity homeworlds and the pedagogy of place and placemaking The volume s chapters are broken into three parts Part I includes four entries that consider what phenomenology offers studies of place and placemaking These chapters illustrate the theoretical and practical value of phenomenological concepts like lifeworld natural attitude and bodily actions in place Part II incorporates five chapters that aim to understand place and lived emplacement phenomenologically Topics covered include environmental situatedness architectural phenomenology environmental serendipity and the value of phenomenology for a pedagogy of place and placemaking Part III presents a number of explications of real world places and place experience drawing on examples from photography Andr Kert sz s Meudon television Alan Ball s Six Feet Under film John Sayles Limbo and Sunshine State and imaginative literature Doris Lessing s The Four Gated City and Louis Bromfield s The World We Live in Seamon is a major figure in environment behavior research particularly as that work has applied value for design professionals This volume will be of interest to geographers environmental psychologists architects planners policymakers and other researchers and practitioners concerned with place place experience place meaning and place making Phenomenological Psychology J.J. Kockelmans, 2012-12-06 Over the past decades many books and essays have been written on phenomenological psychology Some of these publications are historical in character and were designed to give the reader an idea of the origin meaning and function of phenomenological psychology and its most important trends Others are theoretical in nature and were written to give the reader an insight into the ways in which various authors conceive of phenomenological psychology and how they attempt to justify their views in light of the philosophical assumptions underlying their conceptions Finally there are a great number of publications in which the authors do not talk about phenomenological psychology but rather try to do what was described as possible and necessary in the first two kinds of publications Some of these attempts to do the latter have been quite successful in other cases the results have been disappointing This anthology contains a number of essays which I have brought together for the explicit purpose of introducing the reader to the Dutch school in phenomenological psychology The Dutch school occupies an important place in the phenomenological movement as a whole Buytendijk was one of the first Dutch scholars to contribute to the field and for several decades he remained the central figure of the school

Grenzgänge Jung-Sun Heuer, Seong-Ha Hong, 2011 Crafting Phenomenological Research Mark D. Vagle, 2016-06-16

This is an accessible concise introduction to phenomenological research in education and social sciences Mark Vagle outlines the key principles for conducting this research from leading contemporary practitioners such as van Manen Giorgi and Dahlberg He builds on their work by introducing his post intentional phenomenology which incorporates elements of post structural thinking into traditional methods Vagle provides readers with methodological tools to build their own phenomenological study addressing such issues as data gathering validity and writing Replete with exercises for students case studies resources for further research and examples of completed phenomenological studies this brief book affords the instructor an easy entrance into introducing phenomenology into courses on qualitative research social theory or educational research
