Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1997 The Prokaryotes M.P. Starr, H. Stolp, H.G. Trüper, A. Balows, H.G. Schlegel, 2013-11-11 The purpose of this brief Foreword is to make you the reader hungry for the scientific feast that follows These two volumes on the prokaryotes offer a truly unique scientific menu a comprehensive assembly of articles exhibiting the biochemical depth and remarkable physiological and morphological diversity of prokaryote life The size of the volumes might initially discourage the unprepared mind from being attracted to the study of prokaryote life for this landmark assemblage thoroughly documents the wealth of present knowledge But in confronting the reader with the state of the art the Handbook also defines where new work needs to be done on well studied bacteria as well as on unusual or poorly studied organisms There are basically two ways of doing research with microbes A classical approach is first to define the phenomenon to be studied and then to select the organism accordingly Another way is to choose a specific organism and go where it leads The pursuit of an unusual microbe brings out the latent hunter in all of us The intellectual challenges of the chase frequently test our ingenuity to the limit Sometimes the quarry repeatedly escapes but the final capture is indeed a wonderful experience For many of us these simple rewards are sufficiently gratifying so that we have chosen to spend our scientific lives studying these unusual creatures

Pathologic Findings in Stranded Marine Mammals: A Global Perspective Gregory Dana Bossart, Alvin Cyril Camus, Debra Lee Miller, Stephen Raverty, 2022-02-09 This project is posthumously dedicated to Dr Gregory Dana Bossart Whether you knew him as colleague mentor friend family member or simply knew of him you could not help but be awestruck by his dedication intelligence thoughtfulness work ethic and passion for scientific inquiry especially for conservation of the marine environment Many of his publications were seminal in marine mammal health including infectious environmental and zoonotic diseases As we collected manuscripts for this special Frontiers edition it was heartwarming to hear the comments from contributors So many research scientists field biologists and veterinarians could easily have given up and said I just can't do this now especially with the added challenges posed by the current COVID 19 pandemic Instead contributors from around the world were determined to contribute to this collection because of their inspiration and shared commitment with Greg's vision. The love and admiration within the marine community for Greg is phenomenal. With that said, we would be remiss if we did not say a few words about Greg as a mentor and friend. Greg had a knack for helping students realize their abilities and pursue their own independent contributions to the marine mammal community. He shared in their successes and worked tirelessly to facilitate their aspirations. Greg would involve students, early career scientists, and colleagues in projects, introduce them to collaborators, and promote them and their work. Greg was a genuinely caring person. When he asked you how you were doing, he honestly wanted to know. He was always there, ready to listen and provide guidance. If you were to ask Greg what was most important to him in life, he would say God, family, and marine life, and one could argue that he had a special fondness for manatees. He believed in the beauty of nature and that God had a hand in all of it. He was in pursuit of ensuring that we all share this earth responsibly and sustainably. We miss Greg dearly but honor and celebrate him as we carry on in our pursuits.
