Family Growth NSFG conducted by the National Center for Health Statistics Data were collected through personal interviews with a multistage area probability sample of 7969 women aged 15 44 A detailed series of questions was asked to obtain relatively complete estimates of the extent and type of family planning services received Statistics on family planning services are limited to women who were able to conceive 3 years before the interview date Overall 79% of currently married nonsterile women reported using some type of family planning service during the previous 3 years There were no statistically significant differences between white 79% black 75% or Hispanic 77% wives or between the 2 income groups The 1982 survey questions were more comprehensive than those of earlier cycles of the survey The annual rate of visits for family planning services in 1982 was 1077 visits 1000 women Teenagers had the highest annual visit rate 1581 1000 of any age group for all sources of family planning services combined Visit rates declined sharply with age from 1447 at ages 15 24 to sources as did black women age 15 24 White women age 20 and older had higher visit rates to private medical services than to clinics Never married women had higher visit rates to clinics than currently or formerly married women Data were also collected in 1982 on use of medical services for infertility by women who had difficulty in conceiving or carrying a pregnancy to term About 1 million ever married women had 1 or more infertility visits in the 12 months before the interview During the 3 years before interview about 1 9 million women had infertility visits For all ever married women as well as for white and black women separately infertility services were more likely to be secured from private medical sources than from clinics The survey design reliability of the estimates and the terms used are explained in the technical notes Establishment of
