Resources in Education ,1996-05 Making the Grade Tony Wagner,2003-12-16 This book provides a guide for a long overdue public dialogue about why and how we need to reinvent our nation s schools How has the world changed for our children what do all students need to know in light of these changes how do we hold students and schools accountable for results what do good schools look like and what must leaders do to create more of these schools These are some of the questions that drive this book The answers emerging to these questions may surprise many The most successful public schools of the 21st century look a lot more like our 19th century village schools than our current factory model of schooling This book describes these new village schools that have been created in the last decade and suggests that they are a prototype for the schools of the future Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1995 Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,1988 University of Michigan Official Publication University of Michigan,1974 Each number is the catalogue of a specific school or college of the University Glencoe Science McGraw-Hill Staff,2001-08

Grading Student Achievement in Higher Education Mantz Yorke,2007-09-12 A lot hangs on the summative grades that students are given A good degree opens doors which otherwise might remain closed Yet as higher education is now a mass rather than an elite system what is expected of its graduates is different from the expectations of previous generations Students are expected not only to be able to demonstrate high standards of academic achievement but also a variety of capabilities that have at different times been given labels such as generic skills and transferable skills These abilities are difficult to grade for a variety of reasons and some graduates may be losing out because their particular strengths are given insufficient acknowledgement in current summative assessment practices Using the UK honours degree classifications as a case study this book appraises the way in which summative assessment in higher education is approached and shows that the foundations of current practices in the UK and elsewhere are of questionable robustness It argues that there is a need to widen the assessment frame if the breadth of valued student achievements is to be recognised adequately God, Education, and Modern Metaphysics Nigel Tubbs,2017-05-12 The Western tradition has long held the view that while it is possible to know that God exists it nevertheless remains impossible to know what God is The ineffability of the monotheistic

God extends to each of the Abrahamic faiths In this volume Tubbs considers Aristotle's logic of mastery and questions the assumptions upon which God's ineffability rests Part I explores the tensions between the philosophical definition of the One as thought thinking itself the Aristotelian concept of noesis noeseos and the educational vocation of the individual as know thyself gnothi seuton Identifying vulnerabilities in the logic of mastery Tubbs puts forth an original logic of education which he calls modern metaphysics or a logic of learning and education Part II explores this new educational logic of the divine as a logic of tears as a dreadful religious teacher and as a way to cohere the three Abrahamic faiths in an educational concept of monotheism
