Material Setting and Reform Experience in English Institutions for Fallen Women, 1838-1910 Susan Woodall,2023-09-25 Tracing the history of four English case studies this book explores how from outward appearance to interior furnishings the material worlds of reform institutions for fallen women reflected their moral purpose and shaped the lived experience of their inmates Variouslly known as asylums refuges magdalens penitentiaries Houses or Homes of Mercy the goal of such institutions was the moral rehabilitation of unmarried but sexually experienced fallen women Largely from the working classes such women some of whom had been sex workers were represented in contradictory terms Morally tainted and a potential threat to respectable family life they were also worthy of pity and in need of saving from further sin Fuelled by rising prostitution rates from the early decades of the nineteenth century the number of moral reform institutions for fallen women expanded across Britain and Ireland Through a programme of laundry sewing work and regular religious instruction the period of institutionalisation and moral re education of around two years was designed to bring about a change in behaviour readying inmates for economic self sufficiency and re entry into society in respectable domestic service To achieve their goal institutional authorities deployed an array of ritual material religious and disciplinary tools with mixed results

Conversing With Uncertainty Rita Wiley

McCleary,2013-05-13 Conversing with Uncertainty is a unique chronicle of why therapists must use theory while resisting the allure of theory maintaining a double vision that allows them to appropriate theory only to break it open to enlarge the interactive and interpretive possibilities of therapy But McCleary offers far more than a vivid experiential rendering of this insight She argues persuasively here in conversation with the writings of Irwin Hoffman and Lawrence Friedman that a narrative case study such as her case study of Kay offers a unique window to comprehending the type of reflection that culminates in psychotherapeutic knowing It follows for McCleary that case narratives are especially relevant to psychotherapeutic training and by implication to the way in which therapists acquire expertise Framed by a foreword by Stephen Mitchell and an afterword by Glen Gabbard Conversing with Uncertainty is the premier volume of the Relational Perspectives Book Series It also introduces a gifted writer of rare therapeutic sensibility For it is McCleary s achievement finally not merely to convey with arresting candor the stress and uncertainty of clinical training but to use her encounter with Kay to probe with fresh insight perennial questions about the narrative structure of therapeutic knowledge the experiential foundations of theory choice and the use and abuse of theory in clinical practice

Practical Equality: Forging Justice in a Divided Nation Robert L. Tsai,2019-02-19 A work of striking political and legal imagination Aziz Rana author of The Two Faces of American Freedom Robert L Tsai offers a stirring account of how legal ideas that aren t necessarily about equality have often been used to overcome resistance to justice and remain vital today From the oppression of emancipated slaves after the Civil War to the internment of Japanese Americans during World War II to President Trump s ban on Muslim travelers Tsai applies lessons from past struggles to pressing contemporary issues
