Assessment and Teaching of 21st Century Skills

Patrick Griffin, Barry McGaw, Esther Care, 2011-10-20 Rapid and seemingly accelerating changes in the economies of developed nations are having a proportional effect on the skill sets required of workers in many new jobs. Work environments are often technology heavy while problems are frequently ill defined and tackled by multidisciplinary teams. This book contains insights based on research conducted as part of a major international project supported by Cisco, Intel and Microsoft. It faces these new working environments head on delineating new ways of thinking about 21st century skills and including operational definitions of those skills. The authors focus too on fresh approaches to educational assessment and present methodological and technological solutions to the barriers that hinder ICT based assessments of these skills whether in large scale surveys or classrooms. Equally committed to defining its terms and providing practical solutions and including international perspectives and comparative evaluations of assessment methodology and policy this volume tackles an issue at the top of most educationalists' agendas.

Creating the Viewer

Justin Wyatt, 2024-04-23 A study of the largely hidden world of primary media market research and the different methods used to understand how the viewer is pictured in the industry. The first book on the intersection between market research and media. Creating the Viewer takes a critical look at media companies' studies of television viewers, the assumptions behind these studies and the images of the viewer that are constructed through them. Justin Wyatt examines various types of market research including talent testing, pilot testing, series maintenance, brand studies and new show ideation providing examples from a range of programming including news, sitcoms, reality shows and dramas. He looks at brand studies for networks such as E and examines how the brands of individuals such as showrunner Ryan Murphy can be tested. Both an analytical and practical work, the book includes sample questionnaires and paths for study moderators and research analysts to follow. Drawn from over fifteen years of experience in research departments at various media companies, Creating the Viewer looks toward the future of media viewership discussing how the concept of the viewer has changed in the age of streaming, how services such as Netflix view market research and how viewers themselves can shift the industry through their media choices, behaviors and activities.
