increasingly relevant issue of scholarship on music censorship and thus contributes to a detailed understanding of the phenomenon. Often words and semantic meaning are held to be determining to the restrictions on musicians and singers but as this collection documents the reasons for censorship might not always be found in verbal messages. Rather the positioning of a more broad understanding of why and how music can convey meaning and accordingly trigger censorship and bans is at the heart of this work. The complexity of music censorship includes historical structural as well as emotional listenings and interpretations of sound. The topic accordingly is political as well as scholarly urgent.

The Gulag Archipelago, 1918-1956 Aleksandr I. Solzhenitsyn, 1997-01-30 The Gulag Archipelago is Solzhenitsyn's attempt to compile a literary historical record of the vast system of prisons and labor camps that came into being shortly after the Bolsheviks seized power in Russia in 1917 and that underwent an enormous expansion during the rule of Stalin from 1924 to 1953. Various sections of the three volumes describe the arrest interrogation conviction transportation and imprisonment of the Gulag's victims by Soviet authorities over four decades. The work mingles historical exposition and Solzhenitsyn's own autobiographical accounts with the voluminous personal testimony of other inmates that he collected and committed to memory during his imprisonment. Upon publication of the first volume of The Gulag Archipelago Solzhenitsyn was immediately attacked in the Soviet press. Despite the intense interest in his fate that was shown in the West he was arrested and charged with treason on February 12, 1974 and was exiled from the Soviet Union the following day.

Translating Russian Literature in the Global Context Muireann Maguire, Cathy McAteer, 2024-04-03

Translating Russian Literature in the Global Context examines the translation and reception of Russian literature as a world wide process. This volume aims to provoke new debate about the continued currency of Russian literature as symbolic capital for international readers in particular for nations seeking to create or consolidate cultural and political leverage in the so called World Republic of Letters. It also seeks to examine and contrast the mechanisms of the translation and uses of Russian literature across the globe. This collection presents academic essays grouped according to geographical location by thirty seven international scholars. Collectively their expertise encompasses the global reception of Russian literature in Europe the Former Soviet Republics Africa the Americas and Asia. Their scholarship concentrates on two fundamental research areas firstly constructing a historical survey of the translation publication distribution and reception of Russian literature or of one or more specific Russophone authors in a given nation language or region and secondly outlining a socio cultural microhistory of how a specific highly influential local writer genre or literary group within the target culture has translated transmitted or adapted aspects of Russian literature in their own literary production. Each section is prefaced with a short essay by the co editors surveying the history of the reception of Russian literature in the given region. Considered as a whole these chapters offer a wholly new overview of the extent and intercultural penetration of Russian and Soviet literary soft power during the twentieth and twenty first centuries. This volume will open up Slavonic Translation Studies for the general reader the student of Comparative Literature and the academic scholar alike.
