and Asian Americans Forty five years after Bruce Lee's sudden death at age thirty two journalist and bestselling author Matthew Polly has written the definitive account of Lee's life It's also one of the only accounts incredibly there has never been an authoritative biography of Lee Following a decade of research that included conducting more than one hundred interviews with Lee's family friends business associates and even the actress in whose bed Lee died Polly has constructed a complex humane portrait of the icon Polly explores Lee's early years as a child star in Hong Kong cinema his actor father's struggles with opium addiction and how that turned Bruce into a troublemaking teenager who was kicked out of high school and eventually sent to America to shape up his beginnings as a martial arts teacher eventually becoming personal instructor to movie stars like James Coburn and Steve McQueen his struggles as an Asian American actor in Hollywood and frustration seeing role after role he auditioned for go to a white actors in eye makeup his eventual triumph as a leading man his challenges juggling a sky rocketing career with his duties as a father and husband and his shocking end that to this day is still shrouded in mystery Polly breaks down the myths surrounding Bruce Lee and argues that contrary to popular belief he was an ambitious actor who was obsessed with the martial arts not a kung fu guru who just so happened to make a couple of movies This is an honest revealing look at an impressive yet imperfect man whose personal story was even more entertaining and inspiring than any fictional role he played onscreen

Striking Distance Charles Russo,2019-11-01 In the spring of 1959 eighteen year old Bruce Lee returned to San Francisco the city of his birth Although the martial arts were widely unknown in America Bruce encountered a robust fight culture in the Bay Area populated with talented and trailblazing practitioners such as Lau Bun Chinatown's aging kung fu patriarch Wally Jay the innovative Hawaiian jujitsu master and James Lee the Oakland street fighter Regarded by some as a brash loudmouth and by others as a dynamic visionary Bruce spent his first few years back in America advocating for a modern approach to the martial arts and showing little regard for the damaged egos left in his wake The year of 1964 would be an eventful one for Bruce in which he would broadcast his dissenting worldview before the first great international martial arts gathering and then defend it by facing down Wong Jack Man Chinatown's young kung fu ace in a legendary behind closed doors showdown These events were a catalyst to the dawn of martial arts in America and a prelude to an icon Based on over one hundred original interviews Striking Distance chronicles Bruce Lee's formative days amid the heated martial arts proving ground that thrived on San Francisco Bay in the early 1960s Black Belt ,2003-08 The oldest and most respected martial arts title in the industry this popular monthly magazine addresses the needs of martial artists of all levels by providing them with information about every style of self defense in the world including techniques and strategies In addition Black Belt produces and markets over 75 martial arts oriented books and videos including many about the works of Bruce Lee the best known martial arts figure in the world
