"Winning Ugly" explains Brad's formula for a winning tennis game. He understands the mental part of tennis better than anyone I have ever met. Brad helped me improve my game and I believe he can improve yours."

Winning Ugly Mental Warfare In Tennis Lessons From A Master:

Winning Ugly Brad Gilbert, Steve Jamison, 1994-05-31 He's been called the best in the world at the mental game of tennis. Brad Gilbert's strokes may not be pretty but looks aren't everything. He has beaten the Tour's biggest names all by playing his ugly game. Now in Winning Ugly Gilbert teaches recreational players how to win more often without necessarily even changing their strokes. The key to success, he says, is to become a better thinking player to recognize, analyze, and capitalize. That means outthinking opponents before, during, and after a match, forcing him or her to play your game. Gilbert's unconventional advice includes: How to identify the seven Hidden Ad Points and what to do when they come up; Six reasons why you should never serve first; How to beat a Lefty, a Retriever, a Serve Volley player, and other troublesome opponents; How to keep a lead or stop a match from slipping away; How to handle psyching and gamesmanship. Winning Ugly is an invaluable combat manual for the court, and its tips include some real gems according to Tennis magazine. Ultimately, Winning Ugly will help you beat players who have been beating you. Winning Ugly Brad Gilbert, Steve Jamison, 2003

Winning Ugly Brad Gilbert, Steve Jamison, 1993-01-01 Advice from a pro on how to improve your tennis game lists the six reasons never to serve first, discusses psychological aspects of the game, and reveals how McEnroe and Connors could steal a match. National ad promo

TENNIS BEYOND MECHANICS Bruno Simon, 2024-06-10 Tennis Beyond Mechanics explores the five levels of mind states. At any given moment, a player's mind state is at a given level. The higher the level, the better they will perform. Most of us mentally operate at level 1 or 2, whether on the tennis court or in daily life. Few operate at level 3, and even fewer at level 4. We've all heard of players who have experienced the zone, a state where one is playing flawlessly, almost effortlessly. It has been described by those who have experienced it as a meditative state of clarity. That is the level 5 state of mind, the highest level. Tennis Beyond Mechanics is about understanding those mental levels. It is about being aware of the level we find ourselves in and learning to elevate to higher levels for better performance. Thought provoking, captivating, and inspiring, this book also follows the fascinating journey of a tennis prodigy who happens to be one of those rare individuals who intuitively functions at level 4.

Winning Francesco Duina, 2013-08-25 Why winning doesn't always lead to happiness. Most of us are taught from a young age to be winners and avoid being losers. But what does it mean to win or lose? And why do we care so much? Does winning make us happy? Winning undertakes an unprecedented investigation of winning and losing in American society: what we are really after as we struggle to win, our collective beliefs about winners and losers, and much more. Francesco Duina argues that victory and loss are not endpoints or final destinations but gateways to something of immense importance to us: the affirmation of our place in the world. But Duina also shows that competition is unlikely to provide us with the answers we need. Winning and losing are artificial and logically flawed concepts that put us at odds with the world around us and ultimately ourselves. Duina explores the social and psychological effects of the language of competition in American culture. Primarily concerned with our shared obsessions about winning and losing, Winning proposes a new mind set for how we can pursue our dreams and in a more satisfying way find our proper place in the world
