result of protracted power struggles over how data are created and used how history is written and by whom and the very definition of facts in a digital age In Writing the Revolution Ford looks critically at how the Wikipedia article about the 2011 Egyptian Revolution evolved over the course of a decade both shaping and being shaped by the Revolution as it happened When data are published in real time they are subject to an intense battle over their meaning across multiple fronts Ford answers key questions about how Wikipedia's so called consensus is arrived at who has the power to write dominant histories and which knowledges are actively rejected how these battles play out across the chains of circulation in which data travel and whether history is now written by algorithms
