from Daughter

In the mirror of life, bright and true,
Mom, I see the kindest reflection of you.
In every gesture, in each caring touch,
I see you, feel you, love you much.

Gleaming in my eyes, your love, pure,
In every reflection, you beautifully assure.
In every image, every caring move,
Mom, your love, deeply I prove.

Gazing into life's mirror so divine,
I cherish the reflection that is thine.
In every semblance, love does prove,
I am you, in every heartfelt move.

Women of Color Elizabeth Brown-Guillory, 2010-06-28 Interest in the mother daughter relationship has never been greater yet there are few books specifically devoted to the relationships between daughters and mothers of color To fill that gap this collection of original essays explores the mother daughter relationship as it appears in the works of African American Asian American Mexican American Native American Indian and Australian Aboriginal women writers Prominent among the writers considered here are Toni Morrison Alice Walker Maxine Hong Kingston Cherrie Moraga Leslie Marmon Silko and Amy Tan Elizabeth Brown Guillory and the other essayists examine the myths and reality surrounding the mother daughter relationship in these writers works They show how women writers of color often portray the mother daughter dyad as a love hate relationship in which the mother painstakingly tries to convey knowledge of how to survive in a racist sexist and classist world while the daughter rejects her mother s experiences as invalid in changing social times This book represents a further opening of the literary canon to twentieth century women of color Like the writings it surveys it celebrates the joys of breaking silence and moving toward reconciliation and growth

The Same Solitude Catherine Ciepiela, 2018-09-05 Still we have the same solitude the same journeys and searching and the same favorite turns in the labyrinth of literature and history Boris Pasternak to Marina Tsvetaeva One of the most compelling episodes of twentieth century Russian literature involves the epistolary romance that blossomed between the modernist poets Marina Tsvetaeva and Boris Pasternak in the 1920s Only weeks after Tsvetaeva emigrated from Russia in 1922 Pasternak discovered her poetry and sent her a letter of praise and admiration Tsvetaeva's enthusiastic response began a decade long affair conducted entirely through letters This correspondence written across the widening divide separating Soviet Russia from Russian migrants in continental Europe offers a view into the overlapping worlds of literary creativity sexual identity and political affiliation Following both sides of their conversation Catherine Ciepiela charts the poets changing relations to each other to the extraordinary political events of the period and to literature itself The Same Solitude presents the first full account of this affair of letters and poems from its beginning in the summer of 1922 to its denouement in the 1930s Drawing on many previously untranslated letters and poems Ciepiela describes the poets mutual influence both in the course of their lives and the development of their art Neither poet saw any separation between a poet's life and work and Ciepiela treats each poet's letters and poems as a single text She discusses the poets famous triangular correspondence with Rainer Maria Rilke in 1926 and she addresses the profound significance of Tsvetaeva for Pasternak who is often perceived mistakenly Ciepiela asserts as the more detached partner Further this book expands our understanding of poetic modernism by showing how the poets worked through ideas about gender and writing in the context of what they themselves called a literary marriage

Motherhood and Creativity in Contemporary Self-Life Writing Alice Braun, 2024-08-21 This book aims to study the representation of motherhood in self life writing by English speaking authors It highlights the particular issues women writers are faced with when they try to combine their vocation as artists with their duties to their children For those women who claim their right to be both mothers and writers several cultural myths need to be taken down chief among which is the representations that we have of what being an artist should be like as well as the role a mother should have towards her children This book looks at self life writing by women from English speaking countries to reveal the common themes and tropes which recur in texts written on the subject of motherhood by looking at them from both a literary and a cultural perspective It also aims to demonstrate that a new generation of women writers is taking up the subject and forging a new literary tradition British Women Poets of the Long Eighteenth Century Paula R. Backscheider, Catherine E. Ingrassia, 2022-10-01 This anthology gathers 368 poems by 80 British women poets of the long eighteenth century Few of these poems have been reprinted since originally published and all are crucial to understanding fully the literary history of women writers Paula R Backscheider and Catherine E Ingrassia demonstrate the enormous diversity of poetry produced during this time by organizing the poems in three broad and deliberately overlapping categories by genre establishing that women wrote in all of the forms that men did with equal mastery and creativity by theme offering a revisionary look at the range of topics these writers addressed including war ecology friendship religion and the stages of life and by the poems more specific focus on the women s experiences as writers Backscheider and Ingrassia have selected poems that represent the best work of skilled poets creating a wonderful mix of canonical and little known pieces They include the complete texts of longer poems that are abridged or omitted in other collections Their substantial part introductions textual notes bibliographical information and biographical sketches situate the poets and their writings within the cultural and political milieu in which they appeared To generate further scholarship on this subject this essential anthology puts primary texts in front of students scholars and general readers It fills the persistent need to document women s poetic expression during the long eighteenth century and to rewrite the literary history of the period a history from which women have largely been excluded Ebony , 1995-05 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine
