with an in depth understanding of the professional development of two notable and highly accomplished naval officers and their contributions to the development of the Aegis Weapons System The main argument is that there was no single career path or set of formal qualifications for achieving excellence in the naval profession as characterized by selection for Flag rank One of the major points is the revelation that a combination of essential personal traits and qualities and important operational and technical experiences fundamental to the nature of naval warfare are critical to developing highly competent and confident officers Such officers are needed to lead major acquisition programs capable of delivering innovative weapons systems for a twenty first t century Navy facing new age threats We Live for the We Dani McClain, 2019-04-02 A warm wise and urgent guide to parenting in uncertain times from a longtime reporter on race reproductive health and politics In We Live for the We first time mother Dani McClain sets out to understand how to raise her daughter in what she as a black woman knows to be an unjust even hostile society Black women are more likely to die during pregnancy or birth than any other race black mothers must stand before television cameras telling the world that their slain children were human beings What then is the best way to keep fear at bay and raise a child so she lives with dignity and joy McClain spoke with mothers on the frontlines of movements for social political and cultural change who are grappling with the same questions Following a child s development from infancy to the teenage years We Live for the We touches on everything from the importance of creativity to building a mutually supportive community to navigating one s relationship with power and authority It is an essential handbook to help us imagine the society we build for the next generation The British Battleship 1906-1946

Norman Friedman, 2015-09-30 The British battleship is one of the most intensely studied of all naval topics but it is also among the most popular Norman Friedman is one of the most highly regarded of all naval writers with an avid following for his work Therefore a new book on British battleships by Friedman is a major event and has been eagerly awaited ever since knowledge of the project began to circulate among enthusiasts Friedman has the ability to bring new ideas to even the most over worked subjects based on extensive original research and a talent for explaining technology in the wider context of politics economics and strategy His latest book covers the development of Royal Navy capital ships including battlecruisers from the pre history of the revolutionary Dreadnought of 1906 to the last of the line HMS Vanguard in 1946 Repleat with original insights the story that emerges will enlighten and surprise even the most knowledgeable The attraction of the book is enhanced by sets of specially commissioned plans of the important classes by John Roberts and A D Baker III both renowned experts in their own right plus a colour section featuring the original Admiralty draughts including a spectacular double gatefold For many with an interest in warships this will be the book of the year
