Daberkow,1986 Lettuce Production in the United States Thomas Wallace Whitaker,1974 Lettuce and Its Production Thomas Wallace Whitaker,1962 Agriculture Handbook ,1949 Set includes revised editions of some issues Recent Trends And Innovations in Vegetable Science Bhavana Dhaker,Komal Kanwer,Amandeep Singh Brar,Jaspreet Singh,Abhinay, Sandesh Kumar,2025-02-03 Foreign Agriculture ,1980 Titans of Industrial Agriculture Jennifer Clapp,2025-02-18 How a small handful of giant transnational corporations has come to dominate the farm inputs sector why it matters and what can be done about it Every year hundreds of billions of dollars worth of farm machinery fertilizer seeds and pesticides are sold to farmers around the world Although agricultural inputs are a huge sector of the global economy the lion s share of that market is controlled by a relatively small number of very large transnational corporations The high degree of concentration among these agribusiness titans is striking considering that just a few hundred years ago agricultural inputs were not even marketed goods In Titans of Industrial Agriculture Jennifer Clapp explains how we got from there to here outlining the forces that enabled this extreme concentration of power and the entrenchment of industrial agriculture Clapp reveals that the firms that rose to the top of these sectors benefited from distinct market technology and policy advantages dating back a century or more that enabled them to expand their businesses through mergers and acquisitions that made them even bigger and more powerful These dynamics matter because the firms at the top have long shaped industrial farming practices that in turn have generated enormous social ecological and health impacts on the planet and the future of food systems Beyond analyzing how these problems have arisen and manifested the book examines recent efforts to address corporate power and dominance in food systems and assesses the prospects for change Among the first works to examine deep roots of corporate power in agriculture Titans of Industrial Agriculture helps illuminate just how corporate actors have encouraged the lock in of industrial agriculture despite all its known social and ecological costs Agricultural Research Service, Extension Service, Farmer Cooperative Service, Forest Service United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations,1954 Farm Fresh Broadband Christopher Ali,2021-09-21 An analysis of the failure of U S broadband policy to solve the rural urban digital divide with a proposal for a new national rural broadband plan As much of daily life migrates online broadband high speed internet connectivity has become a necessity The widespread lack of broadband in rural America has created a stark urban rural digital divide In Farm

Fresh Broadband Christopher Ali analyzes the promise and the failure of national rural broadband policy in the United States and proposes a new national broadband plan He examines how broadband policies are enacted and implemented explores business models for broadband providers surveys the technologies of rural broadband and offers case studies of broadband use in the rural Midwest Ali argues that rural broadband policy is both broken and incomplete broken because it lacks coordinated federal leadership and incomplete because it fails to recognize the important roles of communities cooperatives and local providers in broadband access For example existing policies favor large telecommunication companies crowding out smaller nimbler providers Lack of competition drives prices up rural broadband can cost 37 percent more than urban broadband The federal government subsidizes rural broadband by approximately 6 billion Where does the money go Ali proposes democratizing policy architecture for rural broadband modeling it after the wiring of rural America for electricity and telephony Subsidies should be equalized not just going to big companies The result would be a multistakeholder system guided by thoughtful public policy and funded by public and private support Statement of the Secretary. The budget for the Department of Agriculture United States. Congress. House. Congress. Senate. Appropriations Committee,1971 Digital Farming Serena Vaughn,AI,2025-03-06 Digital Farming explores how technologies like drones sensors and artificial intelligence are revolutionizing agriculture It addresses the critical question of whether these advancements can sustainably feed a growing global population The book highlights the shift towards data driven farming where real time information optimizes resource use and minimizes environmental impact For instance spectral imaging from drones can pinpoint areas needing irrigation and AI algorithms can predict crop yields based on historical data The book begins by introducing precision agriculture and then systematically examines specific technologies. It delves into the use of drones for crop monitoring, sensors for gathering soil data, and AI for informed decision making. Case studies and research data support the analysis, providing evidence of digital farming's effectiveness. It also acknowledges challenges like data privacy and technological accessibility. Ultimately, this book offers a balanced perspective on the potential and challenges of digital farming. It connects to fields like environmental science, computer science, and economics, making it valuable for farmers, students, policymakers, and anyone curious about the future of food production. The content is presented in an accessible manner, making complex concepts understandable through examples and clear explanations, progressing across chapters to build a comprehensive understanding.
