Meryl Krieger, 2009-03-26 Through their search to achieve a sense of academic identity the authors in this volume have brought us new textures and ideas from their research to help us all in our creation and location of spaces we can claim as our own Working within the traditions of academic scholarship we are reformulating what we see and presenting it in a previously unexplored perspective of connections and possibilities Through our presentation of this view we are asserting a new location for the academic identity negotiation that will challenge and reinforce our positioning within scholarly endeavors. The articles contained in these pages are themselves markers of identity produced within and created to define the academic culture From this base of academic tradition the essays contained in this volume share grounding in the exploration of culturally produced markers of identity pulling from various academic disciplines Through the examination of the performance of identity markers each scholar develops and reveals connections that we may utilize in our ever expanding perspective of scholarly subjects and approaches The Sacrificed Body Tatjana Aleksic, 2013-10-28 Living in one of the world's most volatile regions the people of the Balkans have witnessed unrelenting political economic and social upheaval In response many have looked to building communities both psychologically and materially as a means of survival in the wake of crumbling governments and states The foundational structures of these communities often center on the concept of individual sacrifice for the good of the whole Many communities however are hijacked by restrictive ideologies turning them into a model of intolerance and exclusion In The Sacrificed Body Tatjana Aleksic examines the widespread use of the sacrificial metaphor in cultural texts and its importance to sustaining communal ideologies in the Balkan region Aleksic further relates the theme to the sanctioning of ethnic cleansing rape and murder in the name of homogeneity and collective identity Aleksic begins her study with the theme of the immurement of a live female body in the foundation of an important architectural structure a trope she finds in texts from all over the Balkans The male builders performing the sacrificial act have been called by a higher power who will ensure the durability of the structure and hence the patriarchal community as a whole In numerous examples ranging from literature to film and performance art Aleksic views the theme of sacrifice and its relation to exclusion based on gender race class sexuality religion or politics for the sake of community building According to Aleksic the sacrifice narrative becomes most prevalent during times of crisis brought on by wars weak governments foreign threats or even globalizing tendencies Because crisis justifies the very existence of restrictive communities communalist ideology thrives on its perpetuation. They exist in a symbiotic relationship Aleksic also acknowledges the emancipatory potential of a genuine community after it has shaken off its ideological character Aleksic employs cultural theory sociological analysis and human rights studies to expose a historical narrative that is predominant regionally if not globally As she determines in an era of both Western and non Western neoliberalism elitist hegemony will continue to both threaten and bolster communities along with their segregationist tactics Choiseul Island Social Structure H. W. Scheffler, 2023-11-15 Choiseul Island Social Structure offers a comprehensive exploration of the social organization and cultural practices of Choiseul Island in the British Solomon Islands Protectorate primarily focusing on the Yarisi area Based on extensive fieldwork conducted over 18 months between 1958 and 1961 this anthropological study reconstructs the societal framework as it was around 1900 offering insights into both past traditions and their lingering influences on the present By examining the continuity and changes in Choiseulese society the author navigates complex issues like the interplay of historical narratives cultural norms and lived experiences. The book also tackles the challenges of studying non unilineal or ambilateral kin groups offering a detailed analysis of how such societies manage overlapping genealogical networks and maintain discrete social groupings This scholarly work critically addresses theoretical debates about descent kinship and social processes aiming to link cultural ideologies with real world social actions By redefining terminologies and methodologies the study sheds light on the cognatic descent problem and contributes significantly to anthropological discussions on descent groups in the Pacific With its careful synthesis of historical and contemporary data the book not only provides a vivid portrayal of Choiseulese social life but also advances broader understandings of kinship systems and social dynamics It is an invaluable resource for anthropologists historians and anyone interested in the complexities of Pacific Island cultures This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1965 Bonfires of Culture Patricia Lopes Don, 2012-10-11 In their efforts to convert indigenous peoples Franciscan friars brought the Spanish Inquisition to early sixteenth century Mexico Patricia Lopes Don now investigates these trials to offer an inside look at this brief but consequential episode of Spanish methods of colonization providing a fresh interpretation of an early period that has remained too long understudied Drawing on previously underutilized records of Inquisition proceedings Don examines four of the most important trials of native leaders to uncover the Franciscans motivations for using the Inquisition and the indigenous response to it She focuses on the consecutive impact of four trials against nahualli Mart n Ocelotl an influential native priest Andr's Mixcoatl an advocate of open resistance to the Franciscans Miguel Pochtecatl Tlaylotla a guardian of native religious artifacts and Don Carlos of Texcoco a native chief burned at the stake for heresy Don reveals the heart of Bishop Zum rraga s methods of conducting the trials including spectacular bonfires in which any native idols found in the possession of professed converts were destroyed Don's knowledge of the contemporary Spain that shaped the friars perspectives enables her to offer new understanding of the evolution of Franciscan attitudes toward evangelization Bonfires of Culture reexamines important primary documents and offers a new perspective on a pivotal historical era Review Enoch Lewis, Samuel Rhoads, 1850 Among Stone Giants JoAnne Van Tilburg, 2003 A portrait of the first woman archaeologist to work in Polynesia documents Routledge's experiences on Easter Island beginning with the launch of the 1913 Mana Expedition and continuing with her emersion into local customs and beliefs and battle with schizophrenia The Ancient History of the Maori: Tai-nui John White, 1888 An official collection of M ori historical traditions BIM The Bee-keepers' Review ,1895 Keeper of the Red Cross, the Divine Masculine, and the Holy Grail Bradley George Palm, 2025-02-21 Keeper of the Red Cross the Divine Masculine and the Holy Grail unveils previously obscured connections linking a modern day knight the Knights Templar and the House of David Building on clues from William F Mann's The
