The Last Shot City Streets Basketball Dreams:

The Last Shot Darcy Frey, 2004 It ought to be just a game but basketball on the playgrounds of Coney Island is much more than that for many young men it represents their only hope of escape from a life of crime poverty and despair In The Last Shot Darcy Frey chronicles the aspirations of four of the neighborhood's most promising players What they have going for them is athletic talent grace and years of dedication But working against them are woefully inadequate schooling family circumstances that are often desperate and the slick brutal world of college athletic recruitment Incisively and compassionately written The Last Shot introduces us to unforgettable characters and takes us into their world with an intimacy seldom seen in contemporary journalism The result is a startling and poignant expose of inner city life and the big business of college basketball Sport and Postmodern Times Genevieve Rail, 1998-09-11 This book provides critical insight into the questions of race gender sexuality and locality in sport and society Topics discussed include postmodern sport writing sport and the postmodern deconstruction of gender and sexuality virtual sport and the postmodern mediascape discipline normalization rationalization surveillance panopticism and other forms of power used to invest postmodern sporting bodies and new perspectives on sport and physical culture consumer culture and postmodern geography Black Men Can't Shoot Scott N. Brooks, 2010-10-19 The myth of the natural black athlete is widespread though it's usually only talked about when a sports commentator or celebrity embarrasses himself by bringing it up in public Those gaffes are swiftly decried as racist but apart from their link to the long history of ugly racial stereotypes about black people especially men they are also Living Through the Hoop Reuben A. Buford May, 2009-09 May tells the absorbing story of the hopes and struggles of one high school basketball team the Northeast High School Knights in Northeast Georgia and the powerful role that a basketball team can play in keeping young African American kids straight away from street life focused on completing high school and possibly even attending college Ball in My Hands David K. Wiggins, 2025-03-27 When David K Wiggins released his first anthology of previously published essays on race and sport in 1997 African American athletes were receiving more popular interest and scholarly attention The growth of sport history as an academic discipline combined with an increased interest in Black life and history had led to the publication of numerous biographies of African American athletes studies on Negro League Baseball and one survey text on the Black athletic experience to name a few Almost thirty years later Wiggins's second anthology is a comprehensive collection that examines the complex intersection of race sport and American culture discussing the experiences challenges and victories of Black athletes throughout the twentieth century Featuring eleven previously published essays Ball in My Hands Black Athletes Race and American Culture weaves storytelling and scholarly discussion together in its exploration of well known figures like Olympic decathlon champion Milt Campbell professional tennis icon Arthur Ashe Olympic sprinter Vince Matthews civil rights activist Harry Edwards basketball legend Kobe Bryant and more In his final essay Wiggins reflects on his experiences as a White scholar who has spent his forty year academic career analyzing and writing about experiences of African Americans in sport and the interconnection among race sport and American culture With an original introduction and a foreword from Damion L Thomas Museum Curator of Sports at the Smithsonian s National Museum of African American History and Culture Ball in My Hands is not simply a collection of biographies on individual athletes or write ups on athletic institutions rather it offers a wide ranging discussion of the history and meaning of African American sport that will engage not only scholars of African American history and sport history but educators sports enthusiasts and general readers alike Handbook of Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer, Bernardo P. Gallegos, Annette Henry, Mary Bushnell Greiner, Paula Groves Price, 2011-07-05 Parts one and two of this volume present the theoretical lenses used to study the social contexts of education These include long established foundations disciplines such as sociology of education and philosophy of education as well as newer theoretical perspectives such as critical race theory feminist educational theory and cultural studies in education Parts three four and five demonstrate how these theoretical lenses are used to examine such phenomena as globalization media popular culture technology youth culture and schooling This groundbreaking volume helps readers understand the history evolution and significance of this wide ranging often misunderstood and increasingly important field of study This book is appropriate as a reference volume not only for scholars in the social foundations of education but also for scholars interested in the cultural contexts of teaching and learning formal and informal It is also appropriate as a textbook for graduate level courses in Social Foundations of Education School and Society Educational Policy Studies Cultural Studies in Education and Curriculum and Instruction Race and Urban Space in Contemporary American Culture Liam Kennedy, 2019-07-31 This innovative book looks at representations of ethnic and racial identities in relation to the development of urban culture in postindustrialised American cities The concept of urban space organises the detailed illustration of a series of themes which structure chapters on white paranoia and urban decline memories of urban passage the racialised underclass urban crime and justice and globalisation and citizenship The book focuses on a range of literary and visual forms including novels journalism films narrative and documentary and photography to examine the relationship between race and representation in the production of urban space Texts analysed include writings by Tom Wolfe The Bonfire of the Vanities Toni Morrison Jazz John Edgar Wildman Philadelphia Fire and Walter Mosley Devil in a Blue Dress Films covered include Falling Down Strange Days Hoop Dreams and Clockers Provocative and absorbing this interdisciplinary treatment of urban representations engages contemporary theoretical and sociological debates about race and the city Issues of space and spatiality in representations of the city are explored and the author shows how expressive forms of literary and visual representation interact with broader productions of urban space Race and Urban Space in American Culture Liam Kennedy, 2013-04-11 This innovative study looks at the formation of ethnic and racial identities in relation to the development of urban culture The concept of urban space provides the means of organization for comprehensive illustrations
