Contesting the Last Frontier Pei-te Lien, Nicole Filler, 2022 Women of color including Asian Pacific American APA women have made considerable inroads into elective office in the United States in recent years in fact their numbers have grown more rapidly than those of white women Nonetheless focusing only on success stories gives the false impression that racism sexism and other forms of oppression are not barriers for APA candidates to public office It also detracts attention from the persistent and severe under representation of all women and nonwhite men in elective office in the United States In Contesting the Last Frontier Pei te Lien and Nicole Filler examine the scope and significance of the rise of Asian Pacific Americans in US elective office over the past half century To help interpret the complex experiences of these political women and men situated at the intersection of race gender and other dimensions of marginalization Lien and Filler adopt an intersectionality framework that puts women of color at the center of their analysis They also draw on their own original dataset of APA electoral participation over the past 70 years as well as in depth interviews with elected officials They examine APA candidates trajectories to office their divergent patterns of political socialization the barriers and opportunities they face on the campaign trail and how these elected officials enact their roles as representatives at local state and federal levels of government In turn they counter various tropes including the model minority myth that suggests that Asian Americans have attained a level of success in education work and politics that precludes attention to racial discrimination Importantly the book also provides a look into how APA elected officials of various origins strive to serve the interests of the rapidly expanding and majority immigrant population especially those disadvantaged by the intersections of gender ethnicity and nativity Ambitious and comprehensive Contesting the Last Frontier fills an important gap in American electoral history and uncovers the lived experiences of APA women and men on the campaign trail and in elective office
