making institutional analysis of law and legal structures political economy and public choice issues regarding courts and other decision makers and the relationship between legal and political institutions and the institutions of a free society governed by constitutions and the rule of law Contributors include renowned legal scholars economists and policy makers and consistently ranks among the most influential journals of law and economics Redefining Genocide Doctor Damien Short,2016-06-15 In this highly controversial and original work Damien Short systematically rethinks how genocide is and should be defined Rather than focusing solely on a narrow conception of genocide as direct mass killing through close empirical analysis of a number of under discussed case studies including Palestine Sri Lanka Australia and Alberta Canada the book reveals the key role played by settler colonialism capitalism finite resources and the ecological crisis in driving genocidal social death on a global scale Ecosystem-Based Fisheries Management Jason S. Link,Anthony R. Marshak,2021-11-15 Ecosystem based fishery management EBFM is rapidly becoming the default approach in global fisheries management The clarity of what EBFM means is sharpening each year and there is now a real need to evaluate progress and assess the effectiveness and impacts By examining a suite of over 90 indicators including socioeconomic governance environmental forcing major pressures systems ecology and fisheries criteria for 9 major US fishery ecosystem jurisdictions the authors systematically track the progress the country has made towards advancing EBFM and making it an operational reality The assessment covers a wide range of data in both time multiple decades and space from the tropics to the poles representing over 10% of the world s ocean surface area The authors view progress towards the implementation of EBFM as synonymous with improved management of living marine resources in general and highlight the findings from a national perspective Although US centric the lessons learned are directly applicable for all parts of the global ocean Much work remains but significant progress has already been made to better address many of the challenges facing the sustainable management of our living marine resources This is an essential and accessible reference for all fisheries professionals who are currently practicing or progressing towards ecosystem based fisheries management It will also be of relevance and use to researchers teachers managers and graduate students in marine ecology fisheries biology biological oceanography global change biology conservation biology and marine resource management Regulation and the Global Financial Crisis Daniel Cash,Robert Goddard,2020-11-24 The Financial Crisis was a cross sector crisis that fundamentally affected modern society Regulation as a concept was both blamed for allowing the crisis to happen but also tasked with developing and implementing solutions in the wake of the crash In this book a number of specialists from a range of fields have contributed their insights into the effect of the Financial Crisis upon the regulatory frameworks affecting their fields how regulators have responded to the Crisis and then what this may mean for the future of regulation within those industries These analyses are joined by a picture of past financial crises which reveals interesting patterns and then analyses of architectural regulatory models that were fundamentally affected by the Crisis The book aims to allow sector specialists the freedom to share their insights so that potentially a broader picture can be identified Providing an interesting and thought provoking account of this societally impactful era this book will help the reader develop a more informed understanding of the potential future of financial regulation The book will be of value to researchers students advanced level students regulators and policymakers

Getting Energy Prices Right Ian W.H. Parry, Mr. Dirk Heine, Eliza Lis, Shanjun Li, 2014-07-22 Energy taxes can produce substantial environmental and revenue benefits and are an important component of countries fiscal systems Although the principle that these taxes should reflect global warming air pollution road congestion and other adverse environmental impacts of energy use is well established there has been little previous work providing guidance on how countries can put this principle into practice This book develops a practical methodology and associated tools to show how the major environmental damages from energy can be quantified for different countries and used to design the efficient set of energy taxes

Wasantha Nandalal, Léna Salamé, Ronald R.P. van Nooijen, Navneet Kumar, Tawatchai Tingsanchali, Anik Bhaduri, Alla G. Kolechkina, 2021-06-12 This book provides an overview of facts theories and methods from hydrology geology geophysics law ethics economics ecology engineering sociology diplomacy and many other disciplines with relevance for concepts and practice of water resources management It provides comprehensive but also critical reading material for all communities involved in the ongoing water discourses and debates The book refers to case studies in the form of boxes sections or as entire chapters They illustrate success stories but also lessons to be remembered to avoid repeating the same mistakes Based on consolidated state of the art knowledge it has been conceived and written to attract a multidisciplinary audience The aim of this handbook is to facilitate understanding between the participants of the international water discourse and multi level decision making processes Knowing more about water but also about concepts methods and aspirations of different professional disciplinary communities and stakeholders professionalizes the debate and enhances the decision making

A River Flows Through It Selina Ho, 2020-12-18 A River Flows Through It A Comparative Study of Transboundary Water Disputes and Cooperation in Asia explores water disputes in Asia and addresses the question of how states sharing a river system can be incentivized to cooperate Water scarcity is a major environmental societal and economic problem around the world Increasing demand for water as a result of rapid economic development high population growth and density has depleted the world's water resources leading to floods droughts environmental disasters and societal displacement Shared river basins are therefore often a source of tension and conflict between states In regions where relations between countries have historically been conflictual scarce river water resources have exacerbated tensions and have even sparked wars Yet more often than not states sharing a river basin are able to come to some form of agreement whether they are far reaching ones such as water sharing agreements or those that are more limited such as the sharing of hydrological data Why do riparian states cooperate especially when power

asymmetries between upstream and downstream countries are characteristic of transboundary river basins How do non state actors affect the management of international rivers What are the conditions that facilitate or hinder cooperation This book wrestles with these questions by exploring water disputes and cooperation in the major river systems in Asia and by comparing them with cases in Africa Europe and the United States This book will be of great value to scholars students and policymakers interested in transboundary water disputes and cooperation hydro diplomacy and river activism It was originally published as special issues of Water International International Aerospace Abstracts ,1996
