1931-1945 (all marks)

The De Havilland Tiger Moth is probably the best-known biplane in the world, with a dedicated following that perfectly matches its name. The experience of a Tiger Moth against a summer sky is iconic. The experience of a Tiger Moth against a summer sky is iconic. The experience of a Tiger Moth against a summer sky is iconic.

There is no doubt it is a highly successful design. The Tiger Moth was an exceptionally simple design in an era of increasingly complex and sophisticated multi-engine fighters. It is a simple and straightforward design that was built by thousands of amateurs and professionals. Later graduates would move on to the production of superior fighters and on to other aircraft.

Through their own efforts and those of others, many of the world's best pilots were trained on the Tiger Moth. The Tiger Moth was built between 1931 and 1945, with over 10,000 built. It was around 1930 when it was first built, and it was around 1945 when it was last built.

The extensive illustrated book looks both at the engineering of this simple and yet complex machine. It also offers a behind-the-scenes insight into what it was like to own, maintain and fly a Tiger Moth today.

In addition to looking at the challenges of maintaining an aircraft which has been flying since the 1930s, the book also looks at the other equally important aspects of the aircraft's operation - from safety, keeping the propeller in good condition, to achieving the most efficient landing, when taking off, maintaining and the ground crew's role in the aircraft's operation.

Stephen Fowler is a well-known aviation writer and has had a career in aviation since 1970. He has been flying since 1970, and he has been flying since 1970. He has been flying since 1970, and he has been flying since 1970. He has been flying since 1970, and he has been flying since 1970.

The Tiger Moth Story Alan Bramson, 2020-05-05 The Tiger Moth is one of the major aviation success stories in the history of British aviation Developed by Geoffrey de Havilland and flown for the first time on October 26 1931 the biplane became the most important elementary trainer used by Commonwealth forces More than 1 000 Tiger Moths were delivered before WWII and subsequently around 4 000 were built in the UK with an extra 2 000 being manufactured in Canada Australia and New Zealand Following the end of WWII pilots could buy and modify a Tiger Moth for recreational use or agricultural crop spraying and use it relatively cheaply This combined with its popularity within the aero club movement provided employment for the Tiger Moths until the late fifties when the more modern closed cockpit aircraft began to force them into retirement This new edition provides a comprehensive account of the aircraft's origins and its development as a trainer of Commonwealth pilots in times of peace and war It also looks at some of the other roles which this versatile little aeroplane performed such as a crop duster glider tug aerial advertiser bomber coastal patrol plane and aerial ambulance Technical narrative and drawings handling ability and performance as seen through the eyes of the pilots combine to make The Tiger Moth Story the most comprehensive book of the aircraft up north handling the mundane chores of her dad's general law office is a little on the dull side But her plans for a quiet winter fly out the window when Elliott walks in the door Elliott sets off all sorts of bells but most disturbing is the way Kiva wants to reach out and brush Elliott's bangs from those captivating blue eyes Kiva's job is to manage Elliott's inheritance not investigate the strange demands of her father's law partner But with everyone gunning for her new client it doesn't take long for Kiva to figure out that there's much more than Elliott's inheritance and her own heart that are at risk Tallyho Jon
