A Stability Technique for Evolution Partial Differential Equations Victor A. Galaktionov, Juan Luis Vázquez, 2012-12-06 common feature is that these evolution problems can be formulated as asymptotically small perturbations of certain dynamical systems with better known behaviour Now it usually happens that the perturbation is small in a very weak sense hence the difficulty or impossibility of applying more classical techniques Though the method originated with the analysis of critical behaviour for evolution PDEs in its abstract formulation it deals with a nonautonomous abstract differential equation  $NDE \quad U_t = A(u)C(u) + \epsilon(t)$  where  $u$  has values in a Banach space like an LP space  $A$  is an autonomous time independent operator and  $C$  is an asymptotically small perturbation so that  $C(u) \rightarrow 0$  along orbits  $u(t)$  of the evolution in a sense to be made precise which in practice can be quite weak We work in a situation in which the autonomous limit differential equation  $ADE \quad U_t = A(u)^2$  has a well known asymptotic behaviour and we want to prove that for large times the orbits of the original evolution problem converge to a certain class of limits of the autonomous equation More precisely we want to prove that the orbits of NDE are attracted by a certain limit set  $\Sigma$  of ADE which may consist of equilibria of the autonomous equation or it can be a more complicated object
